Goering's Own Story

Britain Will Make Forces Ready for Any Emergency

Defence Minister Announces Plans

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(Reuters)—Plans to prepare for any emergency were announced by Defence Minister A. V. Alexander in the House of Commons today. Mobilization machinery has been overhauled, he said, "and if unhappily such machinery had to be used it would be found to work satisfactorily."

Declaring that the "plain fact" was that collective security had not been achieved, Alexander said, "We have an obligation so to maintain our armed forces that should a major emergency arise they can be expanded to make full contribution to collective security."

Plans for emergency recall had been prepared as "a matter of common prudence."

BUILD UP RESERVES

For Britain's generl preparedness the buil..up of reserve and auxiliary forces "is one of the most urgent and necessary m...s we are undertaking," he said. ...e outlined the government's aims for the various services as follows:

Army—It was vital in the next few months that the strength of the territorial reserve army should be increased by not less than 100,000 men and women, tens of thousands had come forward already and he hoped it would continue to expand.

Air force—the auxiliary air force and air force volunteer reserve between them wanted 60,000 volunteers. Recruits were also needed for the observer corps.

ACK-ACK RESERVES

There would be a scheme for the registration of reserves confined to men and women with previous experience of anti-aircraft work.

Navy—The Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve was seeking to increase its strength to 7,500 ratings in the next six months, mostly from those who have already served.

The essential object of these plans, Alexander said, would be to obtain registration of those willing and by the nature of their employment able to come forward in advance of any general recall if that should be necessary.

Civil defence—Thousands of men and women in the forces were being trained in civil defence duties, except fire-fighting.

Exercises were being carried out at army training schools and colleges in which officers of the civil defence department of the home office, in charge of certain aspects, co-operated.

The Home Office was pressing forward its arrangements for the training of instructors and other matters.

Alexander said there would be new types of armament for the Warning Is Given Soviet By Marshall

By R. H. SHACKFORD

PARIS, Sept. 23.—(BUP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall pledged the United States today to do everything possible to end the international tension, but he warned Russia that it would be a "tragic error" to mistake the patience of others for weakness.

Speaking at the start of debate in the United Nations General Assembly, Marshall served solemn notice that the present generation is not interested in another war.

He vowed that the United States would refuse to compromise on essential principles, nor would the Americans barter away the rights and freedoms of other peoples.

POINTED REFERENCE

In an unmistakable reference to the Soviet bloc, Marshall criticized nations which deliberately steal oil their people from the rest of the world. Pointedly he added:

"It would be a tragic error if, because of misunderstanding, the patience of others should be mistaken for weakness."

But Marshall's speech setting the tone of American policy at the UN Assembly meeting was generally conciliatory in tone. It contained no bitterness or invective.

He admitted that all the United Nations were pledged to seek "accommodation" by which different peoples, cultures, economic and social structures and political systems could exist "without violence, subversion or intimidations."

BIG DECISIONS NEAR

The speech was delivered against a backdrop of imminent decisions in the east-west crisis over Germany Only last night the western powers sent the Soviets a "final" note, asking whether they accepted four-power control of Berlin. On the answer depended whether the Big Three of the West would turn the Berlin crisis over to the UN for trial in the court of world opinion.

For the third straight day of the assembly session the atmosphere was one of fear of war. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines opened the general debate with a warning

Skeletons Discovered By Hunter

5-Year Mystery: Plane Crash Dead Found on Mountain

Grim fate of a USAF plane lost in Feb., 1943, with 11 occupants was solved recently with discovery of the wrecked plane and skeletons of the crew and passengers but a new mystery remains unsolved.

Still unanswered is whether the military transport, found 100 miles southwest of Fort Nelson by a hunting party, carried $240,000 in payroll currency and 400 pounds of gold bullion.

DID NOT BURN

Early reports reaching Edmonton following finding of the wrecked plane on a mountain top near Lake Tuchodi were that cash and bullion was at the scene of the wreck. The plane did not burn in the crash.

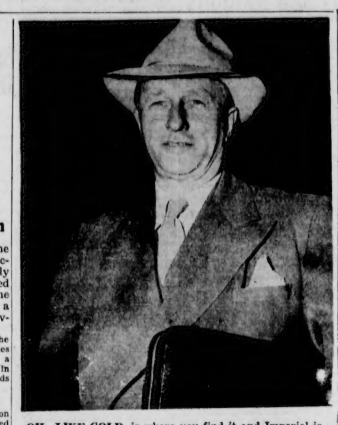

The mystery of the reported treasure in money and gold and details about finding of the wreck await the return to Fort Nelson of an official USAF-RCAF party that has flown to the scene in a Norseman float-equipped plane.

GALE BLOWING

An RCAF officer at Fort Nelson told The Bulletin over the long distance telephone he did not expect the party back to Nelson today. He said a wind of gale proportions is blowing in the area now and doubted if the investigators would chance a takeoff from the lake in their float-equipped plane.

Fort Nelson RCAF station has re-

OIL, LIKE GOLD, is where you find it and Imperial is doing quite all right in finding it. President H. H. Hewetson of Imperial Oil Ltd. is "mighty pleased" about the outlook for another field near Redwater, 45 miles north of Edmonton. Mr. Hewetson arrived here Wednesday from Toronto.

Leduc Progress Delights Oilmen

Imperial Oil Ltd. top officials are "mighty pleased" with progress in the Leduc area and "keenly interested in possibilities" of the Redwater area.

That was the way President H. H. Hewetson of Imperial Oil summed up the situation in Alberta on his arrival in Edmonton by plane from Toronto Wednesday.

There was a round dozen aboard the company DC-3 that arrived at Edmonton airport at 4:05 p.m. The aircraft left Toronto at 8:15 a.m. and stopped for fuel at Winnipeg.

Previous to landing here the party flew over the Redwater district at low altitude. Mr. Hewetson and other officials watched drilling operations from the air.

SIDESTEPS QUERIES

Met by an Edmonton Bulletin reporter as he stepped from the plane, Mr. Hewetson smilingly parried questions about possibilities in the Redwater area some 45 miles north and east of Edmonton.

Told that Redwater was being hailed as "bigger than Leduc," Mr. Hewetson shook his head, smiled and said:

"You know far more about it than I do. We hope it is that good. We will have to talk with our engineers in the field before we can make any predictions."

Mr. Hewetson also declined to talk at the moment about possible refinery expansions at Clover Bar and other areas in Alberta. He had nothing to say about a proposed pipe line to Regina.

"We will have to talk things over with our people here first," he explained.

LAUDS FIREFIGHTERS

He expressed great satisfaction over the successful termination of the long, grim struggle to control Atlantic No. 3 well.

"It was certainly wonderful news that the fire had been put out at Atlantic," he said.

"We were really worried in Toronto when we heard the well caught

Premier Stalin Reported Meeting With Satellites

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(Reuters)—Reports reaching the foreign office suggest that a conference of heads of Eastern European states is at present meeting in the Crimea under the presidency of Stalin, an official spokesman said today.

The spokesman added that, while reports of such a meeting could not be confirmed there were a number of strong indications that Romania, Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria were represented.

Such reports had been received at the foreign office and it had been established definitely that both Anna Pauker, Romania's foreign minister, and Klement Gottwald, president of Czechoslovakia, are absent from their capitals. Moscow reported last week that Gottwald was vacationing in the Crimea.

NO HINT OF REASON

There have also been unconfirmed reports that Georgi Dimitrov, Bulgaria's premier, is away from Sofia. All three are key members of Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau).

There is no indication in London of the reason for the discussion believed to be in progress in the Crimea and there is no evidence here that Poland or Hungary are represented.

The meeting, for whatever purpose, is considered to be distinct from a formal session of the Cominform.

Diplomats in Washington speculated yesterday that the absence of important eastern European officials from their capitals indicated a meeting of Soviet satellite leaders either was in progress or had just ended in Russia.

They said they thought this either was a meeting of the Cominform or a conference with Foreign Minister Molotov, who, unlike the other major powers' foreign ministers, had not gone to Paris yet for the United Nations assembly meeting.

'JIMP' GETS REPRIEVE DESPITE HIS CRIMES

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(CP)—The "jimp" is living up to his name.

Supposed to be a cross between a jinx and an imp, the jimp is proving just that to his creators.

One official said children on bicycles sometimes shout: "Look at me—no hands. I'm a jimp."

Berlin Note Rejection Would Mean UN Case

PARIS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Sir Hartley Shawcross, attorney-general of Britain, said today the Berlin quarrel will be given to the United Nations assembly if Russia rejects a "final three-power note" for prompt settlement.

The three western powers addressed identical notes to the Kremlin last night calling for a yes-or-no answer, to this question:

Is a Berlin settlement possible along lines already broadly drawn at recent conferences in Moscow and Berlin?

GO ON MEETING

Meanwhile, many of the top-ranking western political and diplomatic advisers who have assembled here from Moscow, Berlin, London and Washington will go on meeting and planning what to do next in the event of a satisfactory, unsatisfactory or non-committal Russian reply—or non-receipt of an answer.

Official sources said the western governments had determined along preliminary lines what would happen next if the Russians refuse to lift the Berlin blockade or decline to make a sincere move to reach an accord whereby four-power control of the German capital can continue peacefully and effectively.

SOMETHING BIG

"We're working up to something big," one high-ranking diplomat said. He refused to give any hint of what the move might be.

He did stress, however, that the western notes to Russia neither presented an ultimatum nor set a time limit for a Soviet answer. Neither did they mention whether or not Britain, the United States and France will dump the German situation in the UN's lap if four-power negotiations finally break down.

Fleming Seeks PC Leadership

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—(CP)—Donald M. Fleming, member of the Commons for Toronto Eglinton, announced today that he will be a candidate for the Progressive Conservative leadership at the national convention here Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2.

The 43-year-old former member of the Toronto city council made his announcement at a press conference in the parliamentary press gallery.

He is the fourth to enter the contest for the leadership which John Bracken, 65, is giving up because of his age and ill-health.

The others who have stated that they will allow their names to go before the convention are Premier Drew of Ontario, John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan, and Garfield Case, member of the Commons for Grey North in Ontario.

Naval Blimp To Join Hunt

LAKEHURST, N.J., Sept. 23—(BUP)—The U.S. Navy blimp XM-1 was flying to Minneapolis today to join in the search for a navy plane with five men aboard missing for 11 days in Manitoba.

The blimp, commanded by Lt. Comdr. Max Cawley, left here last night and was expected to reach the naval air station at Minneapolis this morning.

A Navy plane loaded with a mooring mast for the blimp also was en route to Minneapolis.

It was expected that the blimp would join in the search early tomorrow, officials here said. An intensive search by Canadian and U.S. planes has so far failed to find any trace of the C-45 plane which vanished on a flight from Churchill, Man., to The Pas.

Metz Breezing Along in Open

SHAUGHNESSY HEIGHTS GOLF CLUB, Vancouver, Sept. 23. —(CP)—Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., went into the lead today in the Canadian open golf championship but at the same time he could still be overtaken by others.

A sensational eagle on the first hole sent Metz off to a good start after his five-under-par round of 67 yesterday.

He faltered only occasionally and was able to rally each time.

He finished in a terrific downpour of rain, going one over par on the last hole but still with a six-under par 138 at the halfway mark.

Death Threats Sent To Israeli's Cabinet

Ben-Gurion announced a $20,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the murderers of Count Bernadotte, United Nations mediator. The "Fatherland Front" claimed it was responsible for Bernadotte's assassination last Friday.

Earlier Justice Minister Felix Rosenblueth said that the lives of Israeli government leaders are "in danger as long as terrorism survives."

Israel's army and police are conducting a drive against terrorism in the wake of the assassination of Count Bernadotte. Hundreds of members of the Stern Gang have been arrested.

A special United Nations investigation team left Haifa for Latrun to investigate the Arab attacks on a Jerusalem-bound convoy yesterday near Latrun. Four persons were killed in the attack on the convoy which had been proceeding under United Nations sponsorship.

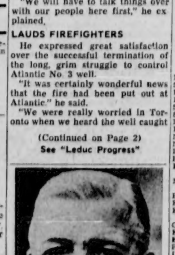

SUSPECT ARRESTED

In Jerusalem, Israeli police today announced the arrest of a 28-year-old Arab, an admitted member of the Jewish Stern Gang, in the investigation of Count Bernadotte's assassination.

Police said the Arab reported he was one of 100 Arabs who worked with the extremist Jewish organization, now outlawed, in a campaign of assassination against "all foreign influences in the Middle East."

Moscow Bluffing?

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A crude sign was found today pinned on the garden door at 10 Downing street, Prime Minister Attlee's official residence. It said: "Moscow is bluffing."

TO PREPARE BRITAIN for any emergency, Defence Minister A. V. Alexander today announced mobilization machinery had been overhauled. He added "if unhappily such machinery had to be used it would be found to work satisfactorily."

2 Policemen Killed In Montreal Holdup

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—(CP)—Two policemen were killed and two wounded today in a mid-afternoon holdup of the east end branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale.

Within a half hour after the robbery police said they had captured one of the three bank bandits. They withheld his name.

The holdup and shooting occurred about 11:40 a.m., Edmonton time.

The two policemen killed were in a radio cruiser call.

STARTED FIRING

As the bandits left the building with drawn guns they started firing at the policemen.

Both policemen fell. One was killed almost immediately. The other died en route to hospital.

As additional police came to the scene, the body of the dead policeman was hauled to the side of the sidewalk and covered with a coat.

FLAGGED AUTO

After shooting down the two policemen the bandits stepped to the street, flagged down a passing motorist and his girl friend, forced them to abandon their automobile and drove away with police in pursuit.

Half a dozen people were in the bank when the bandits entered with guns drawn.

The policeman who died en route to hospital was later identified as Nelson Paquin. The other victim was named Donaldson.

The two others wounded were named Trembley and Dupont.

6-Month Grocery Bill Only $75 Down North

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—(CP)—Housewives, this is it!

Don McDonald of Toronto said his food bill for a six month period at Coppermine in Canada's far north was only $75.

And the 24-year-old prospector added: "It would be less if I didn't like coffee and tobacco so much."

Stopping over here on his way home to Toronto, McDonald said people don't believe his food-bill story. "And they laugh when I tell them Eskimos smoke popular brands of cigarettes."

Why anybody wants to live in the city, he said, "is more than I can understand. In the Yukon I'm not trapped by prices. I trap my own caribou, silver and white fox and the occasional mink."

Ministry Recruits Urgently Needed

United Church Meeting Told Students Must Be Given Aid

By Robert Phillips

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—(CP)—The United Church of Canada today entered the third day of its 13th and first west-coast meeting. Internal church topics are high on the agenda with one of the first to come up the problem of recruits for the ministry.

A finance committee report yesterday recommended top priority be given "the securing and training an adequate supply of recruits for full-time service."

The council's treasurer, Rev. Victor T. Mooney of Toronto, said "we must help our theological candidates through."

NEAR POVERTY

In his treasurer's report earlier Dr. Mooney had said "many of our ministers are living in near poverty." The council, heard from another source that "its ministerial salaries were higher during 1947 than any other time in the 23-year history of the United Church."

The council heard a stern warning last night that Communism can never be accepted by the church, a reiteration, with more emphasis of what other leading speakers had voiced earlier.

Rev. Gordon A. Sisco of Toronto, the church's general-secretary, said Communism must be rejected by Christianity for three reasons: "Its materialistic determinism, its emphasis upon one class—the proletariat—and its redemption of man by mere historical processes."

NEED SOCIAL REFORM

In one of the council's major addresses, Dr. Sisco spoke on "God's design and social disorder." Based on his experiences as a member of the five-man delegation representing the United Church at recent meetings of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam.

He urged the 470 ministerial and lay commissioners here from across Canada and Newfoundland to "press for social reform . . . to raise their voice and the church's influence to protest wherever men are the victims of terror . . . Are denied such fundamental human rights as security against arbitrary arrest and whenever governments use torture to override men's consciences."

Storm Loss Is $25 Millions

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Severe gales of near-hurricane force threatened the Island of Bermuda today as a hurricane that left three dead and an estimated $25,000,000 damage in Florida expanded at sea.

A noon weather bureau bulletin said heavy gales will cover the area from near the Carolina coast to and beyond Bermuda.

"It is now a very large storm with gale winds covering a radius of 250 miles or more, and hurricane-force winds are over a 50 to 60-mile radius," the bulletin stated.

The hurricane moved into the Atlantic yesterday after ripping Cuba and Florida. In Cuba six persons were killed and the damage estimated at $3,000,000.

Winds were diminishing along the Florida coast as the state began a mammoth clean-up job under a bright sun.

The ponderous storm needed 30 hours to travel through Florida on a 500-mile line from Key West to Kensen Beach, attended by thrashing winds up to 160 miles an hour.

Tremendous property damage was reported at Key West in the choice citrus area and to vegetable crops along the southern and eastern rim of Lake Okeechobee.

The Miami area was buffeted by gale winds for more than 24 hours and eight inches of rain flooded the streets. Nearly 18,000 telephones in Miami were put out of order and electric service disrupted in many sections. Miami Beach reported only minor damage.

Then Marshall spoke, and in measured tones read slowly that part of the UN charter which pledges the members to save "succeeding generations from the scourge of war. He added:

"Three years later we are confronted with the need to save not only succeeding generations, but our own."

He made these major points on the general world tension:

1. The United States will seek in every possible way "in any appropriate forum" to settle the present world strains.

2. "If we want peace we must settle the issues arising out of the last war."

3. The world should make every effort to achieve "early and just" peace settlements for Germany, Japan and Austria.

He denied a Soviet charge that the United States dominated and dictated to a majority voting bloc of the UN. He charged instead that the Soviet minority position was "self-imposed".

Marshall made only passing reference to the European aid plan bearing his name, deploring that some nations opposed it — some "who seem to fear the return of stability and confidence."

When he finished, the Russian delegation did not applaud. Its members busied themselves with papers on their desks while the rest of the assembly applauded.

In sharp contrast with Marshall's dispassionate appraisal of the world situation was a speech by the chief Polish delegate, Zygmunt Modzelewski, the first Soviet Bloc speaker.

He bitterly assailed the western aerial supply line to Berlin, deriding it as a "fictitious air brigade." He spoke slightingly of the "economic nonsense" of trying to supply Berlin with coal by plane.

His attack on the Marshall Plan was equally bitter. He charged it was merely a scheme to rebuild for the west a satellite western Germany "fit to start aggression again." It was a plot, he said, "to make western Germany into a tool in the hands of its masters and a bastion of reaction and revisionism, a springboard which could be used by the warmongers in their plans for world conquest."

Cripps Isn't Asking Trade Policy Change

By George Kitchen

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—(CP)—As Sir Stafford Cripps neared the end of his economic talks with the Canadian government, it was learned today the British Chancellor of the Exchequer had not proposed any measures calling for changes in Canada's trade policy.

Government informants added the trend of the discussions indicated nothing was likely to develop here that would necessitate any such changes.

However, it was said that at the moment the Canadian authorities have not completely assessed the potential effects on Canada of the British situation outlined by the United Kingdom's economic czar.

"After Sir Stafford leaves," one official said, "we will be in a much better position to calculate possible changes in our economy."

The Canadian officials said Sir Stafford had shown a keen awareness of Canada's currency difficulties in the course of his talks.

Sir Stafford and members of his mission were meeting members of the government today—third day of the discussions—and it was expected these would conclude late in the day. A statement might be issued at the close.

The chancellor will fly to Washington Sunday for international financial meetings. Finance minister Abbott will accompany him.

Skeletons Found Of Crash Victims

STUMBLED ON WRECK

The north yielded her closely-guarded secret of the wreck of a USAF Dakota transport this week when an American big-game hunter and his Indian guide stumbled upon the wreckage of the plane on the eastern rim of Lake Tuchodi.

The C-47, with 11 men aboard, left Fort Nelson on the stormy night of Feb. 3, 1943 for Whitehorse. Until this week no trace was found of the aircraft.

C. L. Fallart, hunter from Portland, Oregon, and his Indian guide, George Bayne of Fort Nelson, found the wreck.

DISCOVERS BONES

Fallart tripped over a propellor blade and then found a human skelton. Further investigation by the pair led to finding of the wrecked plane cabin containing 10 more skeletons.

USAF officers with RCAF officials are now at the scene of the wreck.

The military officials will investigate also persistent reports following disappearance of the aircraft that it carried $240,000 in payroll currency and 400 pounds of gold bullion.

RUMOR DEFLATED

Washington officials stated today that reports the plane was carrying a big payroll were investigated at the time of its disappearance and found: "There was no indication there were any funds beyond the personal cash of the crew and passengers."

Hunter Fallart reported finding a box in the wreckage he believes may contain the currency and bullion the plane was said to be carrying.

PLANE SEEKS WRECK

Major Van Benthuyser, USAF, and Sqdn-Ldr. Strange, RCAF accompanied by Const. Boulton of the B.C. Provincial police left Nelson in a Canso plane Tuesday for the scene of the wreck. Fallart also went along to guide them to the mountain top. They were expected back in Nelson today.

finding of the wreck recalls the departure of the C-47 from Nelson in February of 1943.

Of the 11 aboard the aircraft, one was a stretcher case going to Whitehorse for hospitalization.

NO DISTRESS CALL

Although the plane had full radio facilities, no alarm was ever received. The plane was last heard of flying 60 miles northeast of Fort Nelson and was scheduled to land at Whitehorse, about 500 air miles to the northwest.

W. S. Jacobs, postmaster at Fort Nelson, recalled how the plane took off with all aboard in good spirits. There was a haze over the airport.

Jacobs believed the plane exploded in mid-air. Others thought it became lost and vanished far to the west over the Pacific ocean.

French Workers Gain 15 Pct. Pay Increase

PARIS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The government decided today to grant French workers a 15-per-cent wage increase.

The increase was less than the demands of both Communists and non-Communist unions which have been calling a series of harassing strikes. A two-hour country-wide general strike to support such demands has been scheduled for tomorrow afternoon.

REPORT U.S. AID

The cabinet decision came amid reports that a timely American financial gesture had saved the government from collapse.

Reliable United States sources said Premier Henri Queuille had received a lifebelt in the form of a Washington decision to unfreeze 70,000,000,000 francs (about $230,000,000) representing profits from sales of goods such as coal and tractors furnished to France under the European Recovery Program.

Both American and French sources said this fund will permit Queuille to stave off disaster in the form of strikes and dissension within his cabinet.

However, Queuille's new coalition government, less than two weeks old, still faces possible political troubles as a result of the vote by the national assembly last night to hold local elections throughout the country next month. The vote was 284 to 271.

SOCIALISTS FEAR VOTE

The Socialists, who have caused the downfall of three governments in the last two months by withdrawing support on economic policies, are opposed to holding either local or national elections in the near future. They fear a loss of strength to the Communists and the rightist followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle who voted to hold local elections. The Catholic Mouvement Republican Populaire deputies joined the socialists in last night's vote.

Production of the latest type of jet interceptor fighters was being increased to nearly double the planned rate.

Reconditioning of types of other warcraft at present in stores, was being accelerated. Extra production of aircraft in existing factories was expected by overtime and additional shifts.

Other steps were being taken with air defences—new equipment, technical apparatus and the overhaul of stocks of wartime apparatus which would still be required.

The rate of production of new armored fighting vehicles was being increased. The planned rate of small arms ammunition was being doubled.

Anti-aircraft ammunition production was being greatly accelerated.

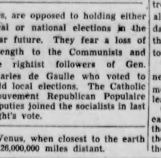

Russ Arrest, Free 8 GI's

FRANKFURT, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Eight United States constabulary troops were picked up by Russians along the zonal border in three days, but all have been returned, the United States army announced today.

Two troopers seized yesterday near Eschwede were returned this morning. Six taken earlier were released yesterday.

Constabulary officials said in each case the troopers, patrolling the border, had been accused by the Russians of crossing over into the Soviet zone.

Crop Failures Hit Vets at Wanham

Ex-Soldier Farmers Facing Heavy Losses in Settlement

Virtual crop failure faces ex-servicemen farmers on the first settled section of the provincial government's land settlement scheme at Wanham, according to Hon. David Ure, Alberta minister of agriculture.

Mr. Ure and Hon. N. E. Tanner, provincial minister of lands and mines, both members of the provincial committee on the Wanham project, visited the area Tuesday on an inspection trip.

Mr. Ure said the ex-soldier settlers were delayed by wet spring conditions, aggravated in their case by the fact that their land was still too rough to seed even after drying.

Seeding on the soldier farms, was so delayed that the soldiers' crops which have been frozen, will not return their seed to the farmers.

OTHERS PROSPER

"Naturally they are disappointed," Mr. Ure said. "But they have seen farms in other parts of the district which have prospered and most of them feel encouraged to continue farming in the district."

The two ministers were primarily interested in the progress of clearing and breaking operations on three different areas in the district.

BIG PROJECT

In the major operation, contracted for by O. B. Lassiter, it was learned nearly 7,000 acres have been ploughed this year and provincial government officials said "considerably more than that" had been cleared. The total Lassiter undertaking is for clearing and breaking 100,000 acres.

Last year the Lassiter group had cleared and broken more than 9,000 acres on which the soldier settlers are now living and which suffered the virtual crop failure.

Two other contracts for 10,000-acre areas are also making "satisfactory progress," it was learned.

Reckless City Motorists Swell Edmonton Coffers

Excessive Rents Lead To Fines

An Edmonton landlady, Mrs. Helen Slaughter, 9537 106A avenue, was fined a total of $60 and costs in police court Wednesday for two separate violations of lease-hold regulations.

She was found guilty of charging rents in excess of those set by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Sixty motorists paid fines amounting to that figure when they were convicted in police court this month of exceeding the city's 25-mile-an-hour speed limit.

Though the total of convictions exceeds the previous recent high of July, 1947, when 54 motorists were penalized on fast driving counts, police say their attention given speeders is "just routine." No specific campaign against fast drivers is under way.

DANGEROUS, TOO

Pockets of motorists were also relieved of $750 to date this month when 17 car operators were convicted of dangerous driving.

One motorist was sentenced to 10 days' imprisonment during September for operating an auto while he was intoxicated.

All in all, the summer months were expensive ones for motorists.

Seventy-three speeders paid fines totalling $1,215 during July and August, and nine of them were prohibited from driving for periods varying from seven days to three months. Eight drivers' licenses were suspended during September for from two to six month periods.

LOSE LICENSE

Drivers who travelled in a manner dangerous to the public numbered 17 in July and 17 in August, and eight lost their licenses during each month. To date a similar number of dangerous driving convictions have been registered against motorists in September.

Number of dangerous drivers and speeders convicted during July, August and the first 22 days of September exceeded those appearing in police court for similar offences during the same months last year.

Drunken drivers continued to come to court in similar numbers this summer, however, with six convictions registered during the past three months, compared with six during July, August and September of 1947.

Altogether, without the speeders, dangerous drivers, and drunken drivers, city' coffers would have been short more than $4,460 paid in fines during July, August and September of this year.

Registrations Show Decline At University

Registration of first and second year students at the University of Alberta up to Wednesday night totalled 2,312 according to G. B. Taylor, registrar.

Wednesday's registration total was 1,016 which includes 15 late first year student registrations, and 155 first year education students who registered with the faculty of Education Branch in Calgary.

Total registration up to Wednesday, which included early Dental and Medical faculty students as well as first year registrants, was 1,296.

Registration of second year students in the Faculty of Arts and Science this year totalled 302 as compared to 389 last year; in Engineering, 194 as compared to 309; Agriculture 63 as compared to 116; Commerce 66 as compared to 100; Household Economics 25 as compared to 31; and Pharmacy 40 as compared to 39.

Decline in the number of students registering for the various faculties is attributed by Registrar Taylor to the decline in the number of veteran students.

One-hundred and twenty-six students were registered in the Faculty of Education at Edmonton Wednesday, and 32 were registered at Calgary.

Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education, said 463 students were registered for the teacher-training course in the faculty of education, as compared to 404 a year ago.

$100,000 Building To Follow Sales

Two warehouses and 12 homes will result from nine sales made by the city land department Tuesday. Total of sales was $9,084.

The estimated value of the 14 building projects is well in excess of $100,000.

National Tank Co., Ltd., Calgary, purchased 13 lots on the east side of 104 street, between 66 and 67 avenues, for $2,375 as the site of a distributing warehouse.

This company will operate with an initial staff of six, increasing to 25 as business expands.

Nelson Grosser, Prince Albert, purchased two lots on the east side of 107 street south of 107 avenue as the site for a $20,000 warehouse. Purchase price of the property was $3,800.

Air Express Speed-Up Aim of New Company

Speeding-up of air express shipments through a nation-wide pickup and delivery system is the aim of a new business organization, Federal Air and Shipping Services, Ltd.

George H. Hodson of Toronto, manager of the new company, is in Edmonton today conferring with airlines officials and preparing ground for establishing a branch of the service here.

While picking up parcels for air shipment and delivering them at destination is the primary function of the new company, it will also charter aircraft for special shipments, Mr. Hodson said.

The company will not operate its own aircraft, however.

CATTLE BY AIR

"We are interested in charter-plane shipments of livestock by air. Exporters are finding shipment of cattle and hogs to foreign markets by plane a decided advantage in many cases," he explained, adding that this is already an established practice in eastern Canada and the U.S.

"We consider Edmonton a key centre in the proposed system of pick-ups and deliveries," he said.

Mr. Hodson said he would be in Edmonton several days and would likely appoint an agent before leaving the city.

Today and Wednesday he conferred with officials of TCA and CPA.

Name Coiners Can Win $$$ With Efforts

Hello folks . . . it's me again . . . the little nameless one. Yes siree, I'm the only member of the new Bulletin staff that hasn't got a name and the boss is giving away $300 in cash to someone who turns in a suitable name that I may use as a by-line when I write stories about Bulletin personnel and other items of interest around Edmonton's better newspaper.

The mailman has been burdened with a deluge of letters this past week, all assigned to our office and all, I hope, with name suggestions for me.

Peeked into the boss' inner sanctum yesterday and he was getting quite a bang out of one of the letters at the time. The judges were also guffawing loudly as they combed through the huge pile of letters on the desk.

I've been on pins and needles this past while wondering just what sort of a name you folks are suggesting, so I'm going to do a little super snooping tomorrow and have a peek at a few of the letters you wonderful people are sending in.

In case you aren't familiar with all this chatter, just turn the pages of your Bulletin to the classified section and there, big as life, you'll find all the rules and regulations on how you may win yourself some of the cash awards the boss is giving away just for naming me.

It's easy money folks, so won't you take a few minutes to sit down and pen a name for me? I'm having a heck of a time wandering through the office, meeting folks and trying to join in the conversation, without a name. Nobody knows what to call me and when I say hello Bill or hi yah Barbara, they return the salute, "Hello, kid" or "Howdy sugar." Not that I don't mind being called "sugar" by Barbara but "kid" by Bill doesn't appeal as well.

So won't you sit down and give me a name?

More Traffic Lights Slated For City

Traffic lights will be installed in the near future at 109 street and 100 avenue and at 99 street and Whyte avenue.

City commissioners announced today that a traffic survey is now nearing completion and several other intersections will be equipped with lights following a study of the completed survey.

The two intersections at which the lights are to be installed have long been considered the most dangerous crossings in the city.

Farmers Finalizing Plans for Merger

Preliminary draft copies of the proposed constitution for the amalgamation of two of Alberta's largest farm organizations are now under consideration.

The merger will unite Alberta Farmers' Union and the United Farmers of Alberta.

Carl. J. Stimpfle, AFU president, and G. E. Church, UFA president, have announced that the draft copies of the constitution are now being distributed to their various branches for study.

JOINT MEETING

Joint convention of the two organizations will be held in Calgary January 11 to 14 to complete the amalgamation.

The annual convention of the UFA will be held in Calgary in November and will consider the merger.

Mr. Stimpfle said it is probable that a similar meeting of delegates of the AFU will also be held to work out final details of their side of the merger.

It will be necessary, he said, to arrange for formal transfer of AFU assets to the joint body.

No name has yet been chosen for the new dual organization.

The constitution of the new body will definite it as non-partisan politically, but will leave room for the formation of women's and young people's sections.

For purposes of administering the dual-association, the province will divide in twelve districts, with another to accomodate the section of the Peace River district in British Columbia.

All members of the AFU or the UFA who were in good standing this year will be elegible to join the enlarged organization.

West Price Hearings Not Likely—Dyde

There is little likelihood that hearings of the Federal Prices Commission will be held in the west.

This is the opinion of Ik A. Dyde, Edmonton, counsel to the commission, who is in Edmonton during a recess in the hearings of the prices investigation.

The reason, he said, is the short length of time available to the commission before their report must be drawn up for presentation to the next session of the house of commons.

He explained that the Commission has no power to reduce prices, but to investigate them for report to the government.

Commodities which have come under inquiry so far, he said, include shoes, leather, chemical fertilizers and men's shirts.

Work clothing will be the next to come under scrutiny of the commission, he said, with particular emphasis to be placed on overalls.

Lumber will also be a subject for the commission's investigations, said Mr. Dyde, beginning Oct. 5.

In addition to the public hearings being held by the Commission, he elaborated, a staff is engaged at collecting all sorts of material for statistical reports for analysis by the commissioners.

The commission is headed by Dr. C. A. Curtis of the Queen's University, Kingston, department of economics.

Just the Same Old Fire Trap

Another season of winter sports is just around the corner and the Edmonton Arena is still the same old fire trap it was last spring.

When the hockey play-offs attracted thousands of patrons to that building at the end of the season and emphasized the hazards of overcrowding, the pathetic condition of the ill-lighted parking spaces and the general atmosphere of confusion and chaos, a lusty protest went up from every sports fan in the city.

Whereupon the directors of the Exhibition Association promptly issued grandiose plans for an addition to provide a greater seating capacity, for illuminated parking space and other essential improvements.

These plans appeared so satisfactory that many who had complained, including The Edmonton Bulletin, went into a dance of delight and turned a lukewarm shoulder to another sports arena project in the limelight just then on the ground that one sports arena, if properly managed and enlarged, was quite enough.

But spring went by and summer went by and autumn is here again and the Arena remains exactly as it was when the last hockey goal was scored.

The Arena is the same old Arena, the parking space is the same old muddy and rutted patch of darkness and the fine plans of the Exhibition Association appear to have been the same old hooey.

It may be quite true, as alleged, that steel and materials have not been available for the structural extensions planned. However, other structural projects in Edmonton seem to have gone along quite merrily.

But nothing on earth need have prevented the Exhibition Association from building decent parking lots and supplying them with adequate lighting so that patrons would not have to grope around for their cars and so that exit lanes could be cleared quickly and efficiently after each game.

Nothing on earth need have prevented the directors from making whatever internal alterations are necessary to obviate the dangerous practice of seating the public in aisles.

Nothing on earth need have prevented the laying down of plans to utilize all the exits and entrances, to expedite ushering and taking of tickets and to keep parking lot attendants on the job until the final crush was over.

But hockey practices are already begun and evidently none of these things has been done.

Conditions last season were intolerable.

Do they have to be intolerable again?

Is there any reason why the Exhibition Association cannot do some last minute tinkering and planning so that if Edmonton fans cannot have the building they were promised, they can at least have relief from parking confusion and from that outrageously hazardous overcrowding that is a threat to human life?

Below the Fine TCA Standards

A party of Edmonton people flew to Calgary for a meeting on Tuesday afternoon, planning to return home by the plane that leaves Calgary at five minutes after midnight.

Because the TCA connection between Edmonton and the main line is no more than a shuttle service, their return plane was held up by a delay in the flight from Vancouver. Therefore, instead of arriving back in Edmonton in time for a reasonable night's sleep, they were kept dangling in Calgary and got back to this city after three in the morning.

How, under such circumstances, can the TCA hope to compete with a rail service that would have landed that party in Edmonton only three hours later and have given them a decent night's repose?

The Trans-Canada Air Lines are a highly efficient organization offering an air service second to none in the world. But the TCA service to Edmonton falls lamentably below that fine standard.

In brief, so long as Edmonton is not on the main transcontinental route of the TCA, this chief city of the province is denied rightful access to the excellent TCA service and the TCA itself is robbed of air revenue that normally would originate in a community of this size and in the North of which Edmonton is the feeder terminus.

Aims of the Arab States

The present struggle among the Arab states for control of Palestine does not reveal any great purity of purpose in connection with their intent towards the Holy Land.

When the state of Israel was proclaimed, Trans-Jordan, Iraq, Syria, Saudi Arabia and Egypt moved in protest on the idealistic ground that the territorial rights of Moslems were being invaded and that the war against Israel was a war for religious freedom.

It does not seem to have turned out that way.

For while all the Arab states are still resolute against Israel, the jockeying among themselves for a favored position is almost as bitter as the front against the Jews.

King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, who dreams of a personal empire over a greater Syria, has clashed sharply with his allies over the recently formed Arab government of Palestine.

And each Arab ally is pushing and shoving to secure the greatest share in the control of Palestine.

It looks more like a war for personal gain and national aggrandizement than a war to preserve Palestine for the free practice of the Moslem religion.

The high purpose of the Arab states seems to have disappeared and to have been replaced by a rather mean and sinister struggle for power.

Some Timely Entries For Men's Great Fashion Show in London

It seems that the hairy-chested Brummels of London, Eng., have been in a state of dithering ecstasy over a fashion show for men.

This parade of male elegance was staged by the National Federation of Merchant Tailors and had a five-day run at the Grosvenor hotel in the British capital.

WEIR

The thing was such a smash hit that the entire production is to be flown to New York where near the end of Oct. it will be shown for the edification of Fifth Avenue dudes.

I should like to point out, in passing, that this fashion show revealed to a breathless world that men are to wear the sweetest jackets cut just the teeniest bit longer than last season and with the duckiest skirt effect.

Trousers are to be narrower, doubtless due to the declining need for larger pockets, and some of the bolder he-dressmakers are showing cuffed sleeves on the jackets and waistcoats with lapels.

However it is not the purpose of this essay to publicize what the glamour boys are going to wear when they dress up to go to the pictures.

As a matter of fact, I think the present principle of fashion shows is all wrong. And I indite this burning message to prove that the first aim of a fashion show would presently be to point out, not what men should wear, but what men, definitely, absolutely and positively, should not wear under any conceivable circumstances.

If the promoters of masculine (to use the word lightly) fashion shows will agree to thus operate from the negative approach, I will be most happy to nominate a number of entries to serve as horrible examples.

Axiomatic Offences

I pass rapidly over the more obvious breeches of good taste, such as wearing bow ties with long beards (which is also an economic faux pas), mismated sox, tan shoes with dinner jackets and bowler hats in bed.

Nor is there any need to point out the haberdashical fallacy that lurks behind such enormities as made-up neckties, egg spots on the vest and elevator shoes.

These abominations are so self-evident that, like Euclid's postulates, they require no proof. And, as Euclid said in his fine classic style, nobody but a plain darn fool will deny them.

But what I really had in mind was the more subtle nuance of sartorial offence.

For instance, the cravat.

There is a school of thought, happily diminishing, which holds that the cravat should be a sober touch of color riding modestly on the Adam's apple.

Don't be misled by such reactionism.

The cravat is to the costume what the headlight is to the motor car. It should strike the eye blindingly. It should dazzle. It should bewilder. It should literally shove one into the ditch.

Originality Forbidden

Besides the necktie which is anything less than 20 overproof, the nifty dresser will avoid clothing that makes the slightest attempt to conform to the natural lines of the figure.

I refer chiefly, of course, to the shoulders and chest.

It is a solecism of the most flagrant sort to wear a garment that fails to suggest that one is at least a champion shot-putter.

Even though one would be hard put to chin oneself a single time on the bathroom door frame, it is necessary to create the impression that one has just arrived from a prolonged session of tossing the caber.

Thus, those jackets that fail to jut out at the shoulders and swell out at the chest are not to be considered for a single moment by any right-thinking person.

It is also a pretentious piece of impertinence to attire oneself in cloths that differ in any remarkable respect from the duds worn by everybody else.

From The Chorus

Just as it is the highest purpose of female fashion designers to create feminine forms completely unlike all other frocks, it is the highest purpose of male fashion designers to create suits that are identically like all other suits.

The male fashion designer's picture of a well-dressed world would probably be like a row of chorus men in an old fashioned musical comedy. Everybody would have the same pants, coats, vests, ties, boots and skimmers and probably the same fixed look of fatuity on their pans.

I do not speak as an expert. I would be desolated if anyone should think I was setting up as an arbiter of style.

On the contrary, I have certain articles in my wardrobe that are objects of contumely.

For instance, I have a hat that is known among my friends as my "fisherman's hat". It is not so known because it is worn on fishing expeditions, but because it looks as though it came up on my hook when I was really expecting a mullet.

But I cherish that hat. I love that hat. And I commend to the National Federation of Merchant Tailors and all their works.

Smiles

The minister had preached for an hour and a quarter on the prophets—all the greater prophets and then the minor ones in turn.

"Now we come to Habakkuk," he said. "Where shall we put him?"

"He can have my seat," said a wearied listener, "I'm awa' hame."

"I've decided what I'm going to do," said Edgar. "I'm going to find a nice little wife. I'll have a cosy home, well cooked meals, my slippers will be ready for me when I get home at night, my pipe will be handy, and peace and contentment will reign for the rest of my days. Don't you think it a great idea?"

"You never ought to marry, old chap," said his married friend.

"Why not?"

"Well, when a man has a beautiful dream like that he shouldn't run the risk of waking up."

And Nothing Can Be Done About It

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

British Israelism

Editor, Bulletin. — Now and then I read letters in this department relative to the "British-Israel" school of thought, or sometimes better called the "Anglo-Israel" teaching. This system teaches that the English people in Britain are the "lost" tribe of Ephraim, and the English people in the United States are the "lost" tribe of Manasseh. They call themselves real flesh-and-blood Israelites, descended from the patriarch Jacob, who was also divinely called Israel.

I wish to commend the letter of Mr. James Hayes in your paper, in which he shows how such people hold false teachings relative to the Jews, that generates hatred for that people. Then I wish to add that as I see it, one cannot hold such school of thought for the following reasons:

1. In Hosea 3:4, Deity declares the Israelites will have neither an established government nor an established church through this age. The English people have had both for many centuries;

2. In Amos 9:8-9 Deity affirms that He will "sift them among all nations" in dispersion and keep them that way to end of the age. Some 40 or 50 million put down in one place is not much of a national dispersion in Judgment;

3. In Deut. 28:25, Deity declares they "will flee before their enemies" through this age. The English people do not do this;

4. Then if for sake of argument we just assume that the British and American peoples are two of the tribes of Israel, flesh-and-blood, then instead of being under "covenant blessings" of which such school of thought so loudly boasts, these two peoples are under a great curse. For Deity declares if they do not keep the rite of circumcision, a literal flesh sign, the covenant relation is not only broken but a divine curse is upon them. This is Genesis, chapter 17.

5. Finally, that the English people, and Americans of English descent are of the tribes of Israel, is contrary to historical facts. That people wrote from right to left, that is from back to front of the page. English people do not, and Anglo-Saxon literature is preserved to this day. There is no shred of trace found of such change of writing. Further, our language is not filled with Hebrew idioms as would be the case were we "lost" Israelites. And our language is not made up largely of Hebrew words.

More Control Of Marriage

Editor, Bulletin.—It has been conclusively proved that difficulties and problems are soluble. In juvenile misbehavior we have an urgent problem which calls for immediate action.

Many people declare the great need is for better and more responsible parenthood, and that this failure to understand boys and girls is at the root of much juvenile misbehavior.

Granting that there is much truth in this, it seems that there are few parents really qualified to bring up children.

Cases of extreme cruelty and neglect are brought to public notice, but there are countless cases in which children are much mismanaged, spanking is the accepted and popular method of punishment, and it is considered quick and effective. Doubtless in some cases it works but it is useless as a method of training and in many cases does far more harm than good.

Divorce is the outcome of hasty and ill-sorted unions. Its increase should be considered as an alarming symptom showing that there is something radically wrong with society in general.

It is time that the state took over the control of matrimony; a license to marry must imply more than a source of revenue. It should aim at controlling the marriage of irresponsible men and women, also impose a decent delay between license and ceremony. In other words the state may assume moral responsibility.

To allow immature men and women to marry may to some extent curb the ills accruing from prostitution. But this fact should be no excuse for allowing these young people to rush into marriage, raising families which they are unable to bring up recently, children which eventually become unmanageable and delinquents.

This is without doubt an urgent case for governmental responsibility and public opinion should demand immediate action.

Downtown London

Editor, Bulletin. — A small news item in your paper referred to the heat in "downtown London." May I, as an ex-Londoner now happily ensconced in Edmonton, enquire exactly where this is?

Could it be the dirty gorges of the City or Piccadilly; or perhaps the green pleasances of Hyde Park; or the wide open dignity of Kensington, or the squalling filth of Whitechapel, or perhaps the fin de siecle Regent's Par?

Personally : e one who lived in the grounds of all cities for 25 years, I neve managed to find "downtown London." Perhaps if you can spare a reporter for a comprehensive search he may be more successful, but I warn you he may be away another 25 years.

Supports Wallace

Editor, Bulletin—I wish to commend Mr. Walter Mentz for his letter in defence of Henry Wallace.

It was indeed encouraging to see someone come forth with a reply exposing such an editorial written by the editor of The Edmonton Bulletin, which claims to champion the downtrodden.

I, myself, was thoroughly disgusted and seriously considered stopping the paper, but all our capitalistic papers are edited by men of the same narrow visions.

The sincere truth-seeker will have to search for the spark of truth among all the war-mongering and slandering propaganda of the present day.

The case of Mr. Wallace shows clearly the degree of freedom the people of the so-called democracies enjoy.

What we need is more men of vision like Mr. Wallace, and save the eggs and tomatoes for the starving people of the world.

House Aged 50

Editor, Bulletin.—I noticed a paragraph in your paper claiming that a pony was 45 years old. I can quite believe it for in Ireland, in 1918, I saw a cob which was then 45.

I was then manager of the largest coal importing firm in Ireland and one day happened to be at one of our depots on the Antrim side of Belfast when a farmer came into the office and punched a ticket for half a ton of coal, which was loaded into a heavy two-wheeled cart. I told him the load looked too heavy for his cob and that the cob was not very young-looking, either.

Asked if I could tell his age, I said that he wasn't over 31. I looked in his mouth and there wasn't even a mark of where the teeth had been—they had been all ground away as flat as a plate.

When I said the cob could be 45 the man said he had bought him 40 years before and he was then five years old.

I left Belfast in 1923 and to my knowledge the cob was still living and therefore would be 50 years old and looked more like 30 than 50.

Shirt Prices

Editor, Bulletin—The other day you carried a news item from Ottawa stating that shirts which sell for $4 cost the retailer approximately $32 per dozen including freight and sales tax, or $2.56 each, also pointing out that the markup was 60 per cent.

This looked to me like unfair publicity in that $32 per dozen gives a unit price of $2.67 and a markup of 40 per cent. This may not be excessive as markups go, but $1.33 is too much when you consider the small amount the worker gets out of the selling price as his share.

What is the solution? Must we socialize the shirt industry? Now there's something the CCF seems to have overlooked.

Or would nationalization of industry really usher in Utopia for the common people when it is distribution and not production cost that prices a great many articles out of reach of those who produced them?

No Locks On Hotel Doors In the Yukon

PHILPOTT

WHITEHORSE, YUKON.—The big Canadian Pacific Airways plane takes off for the Yukon in the middle of the night. You kiss the wife goodbye at 3:15 a.m. Vancouver time, for this time she must stay home.

There are few passengers aboard the ship, for travellers to the far north have not yet got wise to the astounding time-saving service from Vancouver to the Yukon and Alaska.

In a five hours' non-stop flight you're in this up-to-the-minute, bursting-at-the-seams international cross-roads city of the north.

You sleep most of the way. But from time to time you catch a glimpse of the coast line below.

But in the last hour you are wide awake. For the scenery outside is grand, crossing the mountains at 11,000 feet. And you find that the slim, pert young lady in blue who brings you your coffee and bun, is, as you suspected, an ex-nurse. Miss Dunkerley, from the Shaughnessy Veterans' Hospital.

Frost In The Night

The blond giant, one of a pair of pilots, lands the ship at Whitehorse so smoothly that, to help me, you do not feel the contact.

It is not yet 8 o'clock Yukon time. But you note with satisfaction that the day is ideal for mid-September. They must have had frost in the night, though. For they are hoeing some loose ice from part of the airport.

You note that the taxi fare from the airport to the hotel is just 50 cents, and secretly say to yourself, prices can't be so bad up here after all.

You note that your room at the hotel is new as a button. But there is no lock on the door. It's an old honest Yukon custom. That makes you smile. For you remember your father's story of his pioneer grandfather—how he never locked his log cabin door but once in all his life, and then walked 16 miles back to unlock it again lest some of his Indian friends should drop in for a visit, find the door locked, and feel hurt.

Indian School

One of the first things you note around Whitehorse, after the log cabin where Sam Magee and/or Robert Service once lived, is the Indian school.

I have never seen finer, healthier or happier-looking boys than those playing around outside before nine o'clock. One sturdy little fellow was snapping out military commands. A laughing but snappy squad was going through foot drill quite as smartly as real soldiers used to do in my day.

The military tinge in the Indian boys' schoolyard games is due, of course, to proximity to the army camp, which is just a stone's throw away.

I chatted a few minutes with Mrs. Lee, wife of the Reverend Harold Lee, who runs the school. Her face clouded a bit, I thought, when I asked her how they paid for the upkeep of the Indian youngsters at the boarding school.

"The Canadian government pays for the day pupils," she said. "But we have to depend on voluntary contributions for the board of those whose parents can't pay in full."

They are a Christian non-denominational organization, and from what I hear in these parts very highly respected.

That's a first glimpse report. More coming.

FROM TODAY'S NEWS

By Dewitt Mackenzie

What basis, if any, can there be for the view held by some that there is bound to be war between Russia and the United States eventually and that therefore Washington would be wise to strike now and not give the Russians a chance to build up strength?

From my standpoint there is no foundation whatsoever. I don't believe that a shooting war between the two powers is inevitable.

As a matter of fact, there is no indication that there is any responsible American executive, governmental or military, who has the slightest thought of precipitating a conflict. On the contrary, my information is that the policy is to hold Communist aggression where it now is while the democracies are rehabilitated and so gain strength which will put them out of danger.

The policy of the western powers is to be firm and not allow themselves to be pushed around. They have no intention, for example, of allowing the Russians to bully them out of Berlin—or out of any other place.

Court Allows Liquor Appeal

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

PEACE RIVER, Sept. 23.—District court opened Tuesday morning, His Honor, Judge J. C. Macdonald presiding. The first case, that of an appeal of Patrick Larry Craig of Manning, convicted last June by Police Magistrate Faulkner and fined $300 when found guilty of selling a case of beer to Steve Dzaman of North Star on Jan. 11 last.

Dzaman had been fined for creating a disturbance last March in the Manning Hotel of which Craig is part owner.

His honor found there were discrepancies in the informer's statements and considered with the absolute denial by Craig of having made the sale, lack of corroboration and the evidence of two crown witnesses who preceded Dzaman into the hotel for the purpose of procuring beer and who had not seen Craig in the hotel, the court held the crown had failed in its purpose.

This case had been the subject matter of much discussion throughout the northern part of this territory by reason of the alleged viciousness of the Alberta Liquor Control Act whereby an informer can lay a charge months after the alleged offence was committed.

His honor ruled that there was serious doubts in his mind and accordingly allowed the appeal without costs.

Neil Primrose of Edmonton acted for Craig. A. Phimester for the crown.

The case Lahey vs Dellar for recovery of damage to the plaintiff's car, was proceeding Wednesday.

Accident Victim Was War Veteran

ATHABASCA, Sept. 23. — Funeral services for Robert Elsworth Sams, 24, were held in the family residence at Coolidge with Ven. Archdeacon Little officiating. Mr. Sams had been asphyxiated while working in a well.

Pallbearers were Messrs. M Padlewski, S. Zachodis, H. Cauryl, Bob Creat, W. Henry and A. Woytovicz. Survivors are his widow and baby, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sams, all of Coolidge; two brothers, Ted of Coolidge and Pete of Rochester, and a sister, Mrs. A. Sinclair also of Coolidge.

Deceased was a war veteran, serving from 1944-46.

GOOD SUPPLY DUCKS, GEESE

ESTHER, Sept. 23.—Ducks geese and other wild game will be in plentiful supply for this season, and hunters should have no trouble in reaching their quota.

Water supplies in small sloughs and lakes have been adequate during the breeding season, and although many small sloughs have dried up, the larger ones and lakes are still brimful.

Camrose Students Win Scholarships

Camrose, Sept. 23.—Four pupils from the Camrose High School had an excellent standing in their departmental examinations this year, among several Grade XII students making their complete course in one year. These pupils were Delores Nelson, Marion Haggerty, Nan Daintith and Bernard Fossen.

The four have been awarded the Department of Education teacher training scholarships, the equivalent of $300 in tuition at the Faculty of Education in the University of Alberta.

Four Olds Students Receive Scholarships

OLDS, Sept. 23.—Students assembled in the high school auditorium for the presentation of four scholarships in general proficiency awarded annually by Baron Tweedsmuir Chapter IODE and Lions Club.

Mrs. J. E. Huget, on behalf of IODE, presented $25 each to Natalie Klik of Grade X and to Peggy Ross of Grade XI.

Bob Feller Hurls Cleveland To Top

Rapid Robert Cools Red Sox To Force AL Leadership Tie

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(CP)—Bob Feller cooled off the Boston Red Sox Wednesday night, giving them only three hits and pitching the Cleveland Indians into a first-place American League tie with the Sox.

The Tribe exploded for three runs in the first inning and then coasted to a 5-2 victory.

It was the final meeting of the year between the two rivals and Cleveland's 11th victory in 22 meetings with the Sox. Each team now has eight games left to play—but Cleveland has the theoretical advantage.

If Cleveland's games are with second-division clubs, while Red Sox must face the third-place New York Yankees five more times.

The opportunist Yankees, behind Tommy Byrnes' slick six-hit pitching, whipped the last-place Chicago White Sox 7-2 to trail the Cleveland-Boston deadlock by a scant half-game.

In the National League the pennant hopes of Boston Braves were stymied—temporarily at least—by St. Louis Cardinals who dumped the Braves 8-2 with a 17-hit attack. Two more victories will give Boston their first pennant in 34 years.

Feller was helped in the Indians' 14th straight win by Ken Keltner who sparked the first-inning drive with his 28th home run.

BOB FELLER . . . Chilli Red Sox.

Dodgers Teeter On Brink Of Elimination

Brooklyn Dodgers teetered on the brink of mathematical elimination from the National League pennant race by dropping their third straight game to Pittsburgh Pirates 5-1.

Unless Brooklyn wins the next eight games—while Boston Braves lose the next eight—the Brooks will be dethroned as league champions.

Right-hander Rip Sewell tossed six-hit ball as the Pirates clubbed four Dodger hurlers for 11 hits. Stan Rojek and Dixie Walker —two former Dodgers—slammed out four hits each, while Joe Bowman whaled a home run in the first frame off loser Harry Taylor.

The lowly Chicago Cubs dampened the first-division hopes of New York Giants by taking both ends of a doubleheader 3-2 and 11-7.

Andy Pafko drove in all the Chicago runs in the first game with his 26th homer and a ground out. Lefty Bob McCall, who lost 13 straight games, was the winner in the nightcap, although he was lifted in the ninth when the Cubs staged a three-run rally.

Newhouser Makes Select Circle

Hal Newhouser hurled his way into a select circle in the American League, pitching his 150th victory as Detroit Tigtrs best Philadelphia Athletics 5-1. Only one active pitcher in the league—Bob Feller—has won more games than Newhouser, now in his 10th year with the Tigtrs and needing one more victory to become a 20-game winner this season.

He scattered seven hits. The Tigers got it for him in the first inning, converting two walks and two singles into a pair of runs off starter Phil Marchildon. Pat Mullins drove in two more runs with a fifth-inning double.

Sherry Robertson walked in the top of the 10th to force in the winning run and give Washington Senators a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns before a crowd of only 1,641 people.

Cincinnati Reds collected a 4-3 victory over Philadelphia Phillies when successive doubles by Virgil Stallcup, Ray Lamanno and Johnny Vander Meer sent two runs across in the seventh.

Calling All Bantams To EAC Puck School

Calling all hockey-minded kids who have aspirations of someday becoming a Max Bentley, Syl Apps or an Elmer Kreller!

The Edmonton Athletic Club is reviving its bantam puck loop this season and is on the lookout for youngsters up to 14 years of age. A "pee-wee" hockey school will be held at the Arena Saturday under the direction of former EAC gradiates—Kreller, Billy Maher and Morey Rimstad.

Al Anderson, EAC president, wants at least a half-dozen teams to chase pucks in the league and is hoping for a good turnout come Saturday. The school commences at 11 a.m. and runs through until 4:00 in the afternoon. Kids are asked to bring their own equipment, except sticks. The last time EAC had a bantam league was in 1946.

Ice Chips: There's action aplenty on the EAC junior hockey front, too. . . . Coach Cooney LeFeuvre opens his school for a three-day stand in the Arena on Monday and he isn't letting any ice form under his skates.

Junior hockeyists from Edmonton, Rosedale, Viking, Cadomin, Vegreville, Grande Prairie, Wetaskiwin, Stony Plain, Hardisty and Calmar have been invited to the class. "We will have a strong contender for that junior crown this season, a team that will give stiff opposition to the other clubs," is the word from the EAC camp.

Topping the list of out-of-towners is Paul Clovechok, 18-year-old brother of Handy Andy of the Flyers. He comes from Rosedale, Alberta, and according to Andy himself "he is a better player than I am."

Bing Merluk, currently taking in the Montreal Canadien camp at St. Hyacinthe, Que., has recommended four performers from his home town of Cadomin. They are Frank Sinoe, John Glowski, Jack Chapman and Frank Thirwell.

Stan Ross and Mel Wenstob of Viking also will attend. They come on the say-so of Clem Loughlin, once-upon-a-time manager of Chicago Black Hawks in the NHL.

As well LeFeuvre will have such hold-overs from last year as fiery Doug Kilburn, Wally Lauhman, Bruce Dixon and Dave Little, to name a few. It may not be EAC's year, but they plan to make a big attempt, anyhow.

Walters Releases Bucky Walters

Walters, who replaced Johnny Neun as boss of the Redlegs last month, said he was stepping out of the active playing ranks to make room for Steve Filipowicz, ex-Fordham football star who is getting a tryout as a Cincinnati outfielder.

"It doesn't necessarily mean that I've quit as a player," Walters said. "Next season I may get in shape again and I'd like to remind you that I still have hopes of winning those two big games."

Bucky needs two more pitching decisions to join the select list of National League hurlers with 200 victories.

No New Flyer Signees As Workouts Continue

Edmonton's 1948-49 Flyers, those that are signed and those likely to be, appear to be rounding into shape as the nightly loosening-up workouts continue. Twelve players now are under contract with the team.

Coach Frank Currie has no new signatures to report, leaving two of last year's regulars still on the undecided list. Billy Maher and Gordon Buttrey still are in the ranks of the unsigned.

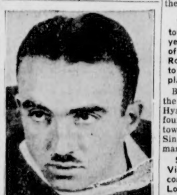

About 25 players went through Wednesday night's light drill, five more than Tuesday and the number likely will vary until Coach Currie starts his weeding out process.

A report that Cy Thomas, who spent some time with the Toronto Maple Leafs last season, might turn out with team was discredited by Currie who said Thomas had been out for about 10 minutes and was just skating.

Only one rival western Canada hockey league camp has given forth enough information to give an idea what the Allan Cup champs opposition might be like this year.

A Regina report says the Caps have all but one of their last season's club back and that they have been augmented by two clidtimers, Sweeney Schriner and Mel Hill, four recruits from the Pacific Coast League and juniors.

The Flyers commence heavy training next Monday.

FORMER STAR of the National Hockey League, Hindy Andy Blair was in Edmonton Wednesday. Blair started his hockey career at the University of Manitoba, eventually graduated to Toronto Maple Leafs, and was sold to Chicago Black Hawks for $7,500 in 1936. He is connected with the H. Page-Hearsey Tubes Company of Toronto.

Golden Bears Taper Off Grid Workouts

Varsity Golden Bears tapered off their training Wednesday for the opening college football game in Saskatoon this Saturday. No less than 52 attended Coach Don Smith's two-hour drill yesterday.

The Bears play the Saskatchewan Huskies in the first of a four-game series for the Hardy Cup Saturday afternoon at Griffiths Stadium.

Twenty-five players are expected to travel with the Bears when they leave Edmonton Friday night.

Meanwhile assistant coach Percy Daigle will travel to Calgary to scout Saturday's match between the Stampeders and Regina Roughriders. The Bears may play the Stamps here on October 16 and will meet the 'Riders on October 25

Dockery Attends Hershey Puck Camp

Bill (Wingy) Dockery, hustling young forward with the Varsity Golden Bear and Wetaskiwin Canadian hockey clubs last season, is currently attending the camp of Hershey Bears at Hershey, Pa.

Dockery, a left winger, arrived in the Hershey camp Wednesday. He is rumored back at the U. of A. to finish his chemical engineering course sometime later in the term.

Egyptian history dates back to about 4,000 B.C., when the kingdoms of Upper and Lower Egypt, already highly civilized, were joined.

Much Wailing For Joy When Cerdan Wins

CASABLANCA, Morocco, Sept. 23—(AP)—Mrs. Marcel Cerdan cried with joy when she heard on the radio that her husband had won the world middleweight boxing championship Tuesday night at Jersey City, N.J. Her grandmother fainted.

Marcel's two sons also cried here at his villa, where everybody stayed up listening to the news. Everybody kissed everybody else. So great was the excitement that a bottle of champagne remained in the icebox, uncorked.

The "Brasseries Cerdan," a Casablanca cafe run by Antoine and Armand Cerdan, brothers of the new champion, was packed to capacity. Police had to cordon the cafe and thousands stayed outside, listening to loud-speakers.

When it was announced that Marcel won, the people went wild with joy. Following Marcel's orders, free drinks were offered to all who could reach the bar.

Alex Olynyk To Move Golf Driving Range

Alex Olynyk has a new driving range lined up for the golfer who likes to practise driving 'em straight and true off the tee.

The new range is situated on the river bank just south of the RCMP barracks, and will open in three weeks if the weather permits. A floodlighting system has been installed to permit golfing at all hours.

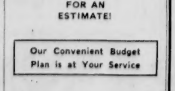

Olynyk's present range site at Borden Park will finish the 1948 season, with the new one ready for action as soon as the snow leaves next spring.

Wet Greens All But Eliminate Martell

(Special to The Edmonton Bulletin)

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Wet and heavy greens Wednesday all but forced Henry Martell, popular Edmonton Highlands professional, out of the running in the 72-hole $10,000 Canadian open golf tournament at the Shaughnessy golf course here.

Martell, 1946 Canadian amateur titlist, was four over par on the first nine and three over par on the back nine of the par 37-35—72 course to take a big 79, a full 12 strokes back of the three leaders at the end of the first round.

Only two Canadians managed par or better as two established American professionals and an unknown travelled the 18 holes of the 39th open in 67 strokes.

Herman Keiser of Springfield, Mass., Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va. and newcomer Bill Nary of Phoenix, Ariz., made their five-under cards over soggy fairways and greens and were hampered slightly by a breeze.

BETTER WEATHER

Weather prospects are warmer for today, however, and many more than the 19 par qualifiers of Wednesday are looked for.

While Martell was blowing up, Edmonton amateur champion Vern Mohs was holding his own in the simon-pure ranks. A neat 76 was only two back of the amateur leaders. Walt McElroy of Vancouver, Bud Ward of Spokane, Sken Siegel of Upper Darby, Pa., and Erv Parent of Seattle.

Bud Loftus, 18-year-old Alberta open champion, came in with 80, four over par on each nine and pro Pete Olynk with 78, one stroke better than Martell. They were the only Edmontonians who teed off in the 72-hole grind.

WOOD LEADS CANUCKS

Home pro Freddie Wood, one of the nation's better golfers for a good number of years, led the Canadians in the first round with a neat two-under par 70 while Stan Leonard, also of Vancouver, made it even par.

Tourney favorite Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, leading money winner on the U.S. circuit, disappointed a large following when he finished with a 73. A 40-foot putt on the 18th hole kept him that low.

Former tennis star Ellsworth Vines was by himself, one stroke back of the leaders at 68. Both he and Keiser scorched the back nine with four birdies.

Four golfers practically unknown to Canadians were grouped at 69. George Schneiter, PGA tournament chairman, Dale Anderson of Glenview, Ill., George Bolesta of Tampa, Fla., and Eric Monti of Santa Monica, Calif.

Three more U.S. pros are bracketed with Wood at 70. They are Freddie Haas of New Orleans, Chuck Congdon of Tacoma and Bill McPartland of Tulsa.

Fred Wood, Vancouver, 36-34—70; Fred Haas, New Orleans, 36-34—70; Chuck Congdon, Tacoma, 37-33—70; Bill McPartland, Tulsa, Okla., 37-33—70; Ky Laffoon, Chicago, 36-35—71; Johnny Palmer, Badin, N.C., 37-34—71; Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif., 34-38—72; Dutch Harrison, Albuquerque, N.W., 36-33—72; Fred Hawkins, Antioch, Ill., 37-35—72; Vic Ghezzi, Englewood, N.J., 37-35—72; Marty Furgol, Albuquerque, 37-35—72; Stan Leonard, Vancouver, 37-36—73.

Writers Give Oma Earache?

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(BUP)—Heavyweight Lee Oma of Detroit visited a hospital Wednesday because of a painful ear and local wags quipped that the earache came from listening to British comment about his miserable performance in the ring against Bruce Woodcock Tuesday night.

Manager Willie Ketchum said that Oma had been injured behind the left ear by a right hand punch just before being knocked out by Woodcock in the fourth round of their bout at Harringay Arena. The pain kept Oma awake all night, Ketchum said.

But if the punch hadn't hurt Oma, the comment of the London Press and boxing observers was enough to make his ear tingle. British sports writers gave the Detroit Russian the biggest panning ever accorded an American fighter in England.

STRONG OUT-OF-TOWN ENTRY

Interscholastic Cinder Event on Tap Saturday

The Alberta junior interscholastic track meet is scheduled for Clarke Stadium Saturday afternoon. Starting time for the program is one o'clock sharp.

A. R. Lawrence, director of the meet, announced Wednesday night that out-of-town entries have been received from Raymond, Macleod, Banff, Claresholm, Pine Lake, Red Deer, Lacombe, Innisfail, Trochu, Galahad, Bruce, McLaughlin, Vegreville, Dewberry, Minburn, Radway, Opal and St. Albert.

Eight Edmonton schools will have competitors in the hunt for provincial honors.

THE CARLETON CUP

Of particular interest to the Edmontonians is the Carleton Trophy, awarded to the city school securing the most points according to average of the entries and registration. Eastwood has held this trophy since 1945.

Girl runners from Eastwood will be running for a better time in the 400-meter relay. They hold the present record of 58 1/5 seconds.

Officials from the Alberta branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada attending the meet will be president Cameron W. (Red) McNicoll of Edmonton and secretary Bart W. Bellamy from Athabasca.

Miss Clydie Douglas and Miss Juanita Lawrence will represent the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada.

Local Duck Hunters Fire Away Saturday

By Dick Beddoes

Edmonton hunters will be away at the crack of dawn this Saturday for the opening of the duck shooting season. And from all indications the nimrods are assured of large fall flights over the northern wheat fields.

Rennie Harley, Alberta chief of Ducks Unlimited, returned Wednesday from an aerial survey of the Peace River region and reports that the geese and duck prospects are good. Said he.

"All species of ducks, including pintails, mallards, canvasbacks and teals, show a marked increase in population over 1947. It is too early to analyze the size of geese flights, but there is an increase in numbers of birds which nested locally."

A favorite duck hunting spot on the local scene is Beaverhill Lake, some 40 miles east of the city. The low flying areas to the south and east of Edmonton are especially popular among visitors going out for a single day's shoot.

Saturday is also the season for rails, coots, and Wilson's snipe.

Bag limits for waterbirds have been established at eight ducks, five geese, 10 rails and coots, and five Wilson's snipe per day. The possession limit is two days' bag limit in each instance.

UPLAND GAME SEASON

The reopening of the season for shooting upland game birds has been allowed this year by the provincial fish and game branch. Last year there was no shooting anywhere in the province for prairie chicken, hungarian or bush partridge.

Edmonton had a two-day pheasant season a year ago which wasn't too successful. The opening day was wet and few birds were taken off.

Chickens and huns are fairly plentiful north of highway 16, according to (Bus) Brown, chairman of the upland game committee of the Alberta Fish and Game League.

"Prospects 60 miles north of Edmonton are excellant," he said Wednesday, "with the area between Barrhead and Peace River being the best in the province."

DON'T OVERSHOOT

Brown urges all hunters to refrain from overshooting. He advises that to prevent closed seasons it is wise to use discretion in the number of birds taken and not to decimate entire flocks.

The pheasant situation remains relatively unchanged from 1947.

The new regulations set out zones for shooting of Hungarian partridge, sharp-tailed grouse, ruffed grouse, blue grouse and pheasants. For pheasants, there will be three zones this year with the Eastern Irrigation district as a separate zone. Another zone is in the southern part of the province, comprising the area zoned last year.

The third zone is the balance of the province.

For the northern part of the province, shooting is allowed on four separate days. These are from 10:00 a.m. each day, Wednesday, Oct. 6, Saturday, Oct. 9, Wednesday, Oct. 13, Saturday, Oct. 16. The limit is three per day and not more than six for the season.

The season for Hungarian partridge will be open north of the North Saskatchewan River and highway No. 16, from Edmonton to the Saskatchewan boundry from Oct. 6 to Oct. 30. The limit is five per day and 25 for the season.

SHARPTAILED GROUSE ZONES

There are three zones for sharptailed grouse. No. 1 is north of the North Saskatchewan River and highway 16. Edmonton to the Saskatchewan boundary. Shooting in this zone will be permitted Oct. 6 to 30, with a limit of eight per day and 40 for the season.

Zone No. 2 is south of zone No. 1 and of highway 11 to Red Deer, Red Deer River to Drumheller, highway No. 9 to the Saskatchewan boundry. Shooting is permitted Oct. 6 to 30 with a limit of five per day and 25 for the season.

No. 3 zone is south of highway No. 11, Nordberg to Red Deer, west No 2 highway, Red Deer to U.S. boundary. The shooting period is from Oct. 6 to Oct. 16, with a limit of three per day and 12 for the season.

For ruffed grouse and blue grouse, there are two zones: Zone No. 1 is for ruffed grouse only. This is north of the North Saskatchewan River and highway No. 16, Edmonton to the Saskatchewan boundary. The limit is three per day and 15 for the season. Zone No. 2, which includes blue grouse, is in the south.

Rock-a-bye MacDonald Eyes Canada's Middleweight Title

By JIM ALGEO

RODDY MacDONALD
. . . On comeback trail.

Rock-a-bye Roddy MacDonald, Edmonton's fightin'est cop, is on the boxing comeback trail and he is determined to stick with it until he has won the middleweight title of Canada.

MacDonald, who took 10 of 12 fights in New York rings before busting up his hands just after the war, is embarking on a series of scraps which he hopes will lead him to the crown, a piece of jewelry he feels certain of winning.

But Edmonton fans won't get a chance to see one of their favorite pugilistic sons as he starts pounding his way to a crack at the champ, George Ross, the coal miner from Nova Scotia.

The cool MacDonald, who will have to sweat several quarts of excess poundage before getting down to the 160 limit, opens his campaign in Calgary Oct. 15 with Promoter Ernie Farr handling the show.

In the other corner will be aging Cliff Beckett, Toronto mitt-slinger who is once said to have been in the same dressing room with Tony Zale and Ray Robinson. And look what happened to Zale!

MacDonald, lightning-fast with his fists, figures on three or four warm-up bouts before mixing it big time with Ross.

"I can win that crown," MacDonald boasted late last night. "And I'm going to win it just to prove it to Edmonton fans," he added confidently.

The 27-year-old beat-walker, who holds the western Canada light-heavyweight title, has had a tough time getting back into shape after a long layoff. His last fight was in town July 27 when he kayoed Flabby Joe Trudeau of Calgary for the crown.

"I'll never lay off that long again," he assured. "I'm in good shape now and plan to stay that way until I win the laurels."

Unlike Joe Louis, Roddy has his eye first on winning the diadem, defending it once and then calling it quits for good.

Likeable MacDonald had a fine record while serving with the Canadian Army overseas, winning both the Canadian and British Army middleweight titles. He also stopped Leon Fouquet, Belgian champ of 1945, in seven rounds. Marcel Cerdan also took the measure of Fouquet during his reign as European king-pin.

MacDonald will do most of his training at the Police Station gym, with brother Hughie acting as sparring partner. He plans to head south about three days before the scrap.

Mother and Son Sue Turf Tipster Service

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A race horse track bettor and his mother Wednesday sought damages of $200,000 from a so-called tipster service for $30,000 alleged to have been lost in the last two weeks.

James Tefft and Mrs. Nettie Tefft asked $100,000 each in suit against the Walsh Racing Service which, they said, supplied them tips on horses for fees ranging from $10 to $300 a day.

The suit was based on a Massachusetts statute which permits recovery of multiple damages for gambling losses.

Tefft testified Tuesday that the fees began at $10 for a tip on a horse. If the animal lost, the next day's information would be on the house.

Tefft said that later the fee was increased to $20 a horse but he was required to make a side bet of $50 for the racing service proprietor, "Some days the fee would be as high as $300," Tefft testified.

Melvin Abrahamson, who was named in the suit, described himself as the former proprietor of the racing service. He said that it now is in his wife's name and he no longer is identified with the service.

Horse Destroyed

LONDON, Sept. 23. — (AP)— Brown Jack, Britain's most famous racehorse, was destroyed last night after becoming ill of a cold on a farm near Market Harborough, Leicestershire.

The horse, foaled in 1924, won more than $96,000 for owner Sir Harold Wernner. He took the Alexandra Stakes at Ascot six years straight. He retired 14 years ago.

KEPT HIS CHIN TUCKED IN

Cerdan Looked Easy To Hit—But He Wasn't

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Sept. 23. —(AP)—Marcel Cerdan the guy who looked so easy to hit when he was in training, kept his chin tucked under his left shoulder and his right elbow low by his side when he faced Tony Zale Tuesday night.

Tony spent 11 rounds trying to find a target for his celebrated body punches and wore himself out in the effort . . . That's about all that happened in the middleweight title fight.

Heck, with more than 600 cops on hand, what else could happen . . . Al Weill, who specializes in profitably picking short-enders, picked Cerdan while he (Al, that is) was in the hospital, with very happy results . . . Of course, Marcel isn't French champion any more, he's just world champion . . .

As far as he's concerned, the title in his native land amounts to about as much as the championship of upper Darby township. But that still is an unusual situation.

After a strenuous summer of promoting his country-wide nonprofessional baseball program, Wichita's Bill Veeck is taking a vacation (Dumont style).

This consists of a visit to the North American title series in London, Ont., this week between London Majors and Fort Wayne, Ind., Electrics, conferences with assorted state commissioners and a visit to St. Louis to talk with Global commissioner Taylor Spink about the proposed north-south series planned for Cuba or Venezuela next year . . . Then he'll go back home and start to work.

Puppet Lives Easy

TOKYO, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Russians have not tried any Japanese caught in Manchuria for war crimes, Col. Hidetaka Yanagi, a repatriate, said Wednesday. Most of the high-ranking Japanese officials and Henry Pu Yi, puppet emperor of Manchukuo, are leading easy lives in Russian prisons in Siberia, the colonel said.

Sandberg Still Paces Gridders

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23. — (CP) — Bob Sandberg, Winnipeg Blue Bombers' starry import from the University of Minnesota, today continued to hold the lead in the individual scoring race of the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union, with half the loop's regular schedule completed.

A touchdown against Saskatchewan Roughriders in the only game played last week, sent the big backfielder's point-total to 23 in seven games. Statistics compiled by the Canadian Press give Sandberg four touchdowns and three singles. Ken Charlton Roughrider back, continues to hold the runner-up position with 20 points on two touchdowns and 10 singles.

Paul Rowe, veteran Calgary Stampeder plunging back, remained in third spot with an unchanged total of 15 points on three touchdowns. Don Hiney, Bomber quarterback, moved into a fourth-place tie with Gabe Patterson of Riders with 13 points apiece. Hiney added five points—a field goal, single and convert—to his last week's total, while Patterson made one point on a convert.

SYRACUSE IN GREAT RALLY TO COP SERIES

NEWARK, N.J., Sept. 23.—(CP)—Syracuse Chiefs overwhelmed Newark Bears 11-4 Wednesday night at Ruppert Stadium to advance into the finals of the International League playoffs for the third straight year.

The victory enabled the Chiefs to edge the Bears four games to three in their best-of-seven series.

Rochester and Montreal were rained out in the other playoff series now deadlocked at three games each.

The Chiefs had lost three of the first four games but came roaring back to take the next three.

Too Many Good Hockeyists In Regina Capital Camp!

Regina Caps, second-place finishers in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League last season, have opened training in the Queen City and coach Art Somers has but one problem. He has too many good players.

All but one of last year's club has returned, and, along with juniors, four players from the Pacific Coast League, Sweeney Schriner, Mel Hill and possibly Nick Metz, Somers has a lot of material to work with.

Schriner reported to camp in excellent condition and was ready to start training immediately. Metz said he was only looking on but he was reported to have a gleam in his eye as he spoke.

★ ★ ★ ★

At St. Catharines, headquarters of the Toronto Maple Leafs, Manager Conny Smythe said he wished that Nick and brother Don would put in an appearance.

Main point of interest in the world champion's camp is whether Frankie Mather, considered one of the brightest defence prospects in many years, will turn. Mathers is said torn between hockey and dentistry. He is turning out to workouts and says he will see "how I go and make my decision next week." Mathers appeared in Edmonton with the Allan Cup finalist Ottawa Senators last spring.

In the St. Hyacinthe camp of the Montreal Canadiens coach Dick Irvin is cracking the whip as the club prepares for its exhibition tour of western Canada (the Canadiens will not appear in Edmonton) next week. The team played two intra-squad games Wednesday, Reds edging the Whites 5-4 in the morning, with the latter reversing the score in the afternoon. The team will play its first game against outside opposition Saturday when it meets its Buffalo farm club.

Camp reports made no mention of Edmonton products Dougie Anderson, Stephen (Bing) Merluk or Bud MacPherson, who have been training with the Habitants.

★ ★ ★

Racing Classic Won By Knight Dream

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Knight Dream Wednesday won the rich third running of the Little Brown Jug pace for three-year-olds in straight heats. The Grand Circuit event carried a purse of $47,328.

Knight Dream, speedy bay son of Nibble Hanover, holder of the greatest record ever compiled by a two-year-old, won the second heat in a buggy ride after taking the opener in a driving stretch duel with Navy Hal, a 40-1 shot. The winner's share was $23,764 and boosted Knight's Dream's winnings to about $80,000.

Knight Dream, a 2-5 favorite in the first heat, was a prohibitive 1-10 choice in the second.

Frank Filchock In Great Form

HAMILTON, Sept. 23.—(CP)—A great running and passing display by Frank Filchock paved the way for Hamilton Tigers to drub Toronto Beaches-Indians 30-12 here Wednesday night and take sole possession of first place in the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

The former New York Giant, playing his second Canadian season, used the old Statue of Liberty play for the game's opening touchdown.

He tossed a 46-yard forward for another major and raced 55 yards after intercepting a forward for a third.

The Beaches-Indians, who went into the game tied with Tigers after both scored victories over Windsor Rockets and Sarnia Imperials, couldn't cope with the diversified Hamilton attack sparked by Filchock from his quarterback spot.

The Tigers built their total on four touchdowns, two field goals, three converts and a single. The majors were shared by Filchock, Jack Stewart, Jack Harper and Gerry Walsh.

Sol Strauss Punches Back With Title Bout

T of C Makes $24,000; All-Stars Battle Tonight

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—While the Tournament of Champions counted its meagre profits from Tuesday night's middleweight championship fight, promoter Sol Strauss of the rival 20th Century Club fixed his earphones today and prepared to strike back at the upstart agency.

Thursday night at Yankee Stadium boxing fans have a chance to witness their second world title fight within 48 hours when Ike Williams, the murderous puncher from Trenton, N.J., defends his lightweight crown against Jessie Flores of Stockton, Calif., over the regulation 15 rounds.

The customers, fast becoming comatose from such rich pugilistic fare, also will see Sugar Ray Robinson, welterweight king, step 10 non-title rounds against Kid Gavilan, the Cuban flash.

"WE WON'T LOSE MONEY"

"And you may be sure," Strauss thundered, "that no matter what we draw, we won't lose money."

Sol was strongly of the opinion that his rivals dropped a bundle in the Jersey venture, in which Marcel Cerdan, the rugged puncher from French Morocco, took the 160-pound bauble from Tony Zale on a 12th-round knockout.

This was, a few moments later, smingly denied by Andy Niederreiter, promoter for the roomful of millionaires who comprise the T. and C.

"After all the headaches," he said mildly, "we cleared about $24,000. And we still have the middleweight champion under airtight contract to defend his title first for us."

Whom Marcel will fight, and when and where, Niederreiter didn't pretend to know.

Cerdan, showing no ill effects either from his victory or from the kisses showered on him by excited countrymen after the fight, was around to Niederreiter's office Wednesday but not collecting his $40,000 purse.

NOTHING FOR THE POCKET

All Marcel gets for the time being is a few scattered dollars to pay his training expenses, plus $10,000 to pay off his two managers, French and American.

What is left after that, and after federal income taxes, will be held in escrow by commissioner Abe Greene until Cerdan comes back and makes good on his promise to defend his crown first in the United States.

BALL MANAGERS ON THIN ICE

There's more to being a major league manager than appears on the surface. One of his biggest headaches is the question: "Just how long is this job going to last?"

This season is a good example of what we're talking about. There was a time when managers lost their scalps only when they lost ball games. Nowadays, even a manager who is pennant bound worries about finding a pink slip in the next pay envelope.

Take Bucky Harris of the New York Yankees for instance. He took over last year and won a world championship. Buckey has the Yanks right up there again. Yet, baseball rumors—and there seems to be plenty of truth to them in this case—have it that Harris is on his last legs.

It's reported that Harris is through because he was appointed manager by Larry MacPhail before that boisterous showman of baseball sold out to the Yankees.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Fifteen thousand more men were ordered drafted into the United States army yesterday. They will be in uniform before Christmas. BENEFIT GAME NETS DON BLACK $40,380

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—(AP)—An attendance of 76,772 at Wednesday night's Cleveland-Boston game assured Jon Black, injured Cleveland pitcher, approximately $40,380 from the gate receipts.

President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians, had promised that Black would receive net receipts over the $25,000 advance sale, minus the share of the visiting Boston Red Sox.

Black, still in serious condition at Charity hospital from a cerebral haemorrhage suffered when he was at bat against the St. Louis Browns Sept. 13, did not know of his good fortune.

"He's still too sick to understand such things," his wife, Joyce, said.

CANADIAN BULWARKS OF DEMOCRACY

January the 7th, 1943, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, on the post-war world, said: ". . . that means striving for the fourth Freedom . . . Freedom from Fear."

In Utopia, the lions lie down with the lambs . . . the wolves eat nothing but spinach. There is not, as yet, a Utopia on this earth. But, it has been said of the people of this Dominion by a citizen of the old world: "These Canadians, in their outlook, tolerance, understanding, more nearly approach Utopia than do any other people on the face of the globe. How I envy them." The Canadian need have no fear of intolerance, bigotry, persecution or imprisonment because he does not "toe the party line." With us, Freedom from Fear is not just a catch-all phrase . . . with us, Democracy is not so much a conception of an ideal state: it is, overall, a decent, humane, understanding way of life. Collectively, by intent, purpose and wish, ours is a belief in live and let live. Its base, its essence, is fair play, understanding, sympathy and recognition for the individual in his pursuit of the good things of this life.

We expect of all men that they respect, work towards our ideal of a perfect democracy . . . but, these ends must be gained under fair, democratic methods. Any other means or methods . . . no matter what the objective, are repulsive to us and will not, cannot be tolerated. Yes, the citizen of the totalitarian state lives in constant fear . . . fear of the police . . . fear of his neighbor, yes, even fear of his own kin. Freedom from fear of unjust, unreasonable persecution is our way. Let us, as citizens of the world's most "sane democracy" see to it, by constant, alert vigilance of our ideals that we and our children pursue our way of life . . . seek the good things thereof in our democratic manner that we may continue to enjoy to the full . . .

Australia's Lack Of Arms 'Pathetic'

Citizens Shocked by Charges Country Lacks Preparedness

By Leslie Brodie

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 23.—(CP)—With the East-West tension over the Berlin deadlock increasing daily, Australians have been shocked by charges of the country's complete lack of preparedness for another war emergency.

In the Tasmanian House of Representatives, Liberal member, Charles W. Falkinder, one of Australia's most decorated Pathfinder navigators during the war, described the state of the RAAF as "pathetic."

84 FIGHTING PLANES

Falkinder said Australia has only 84 operational aircraft which could be used as front-line machines in an emergency.

In Adelaide, south Australia, army minister, Cyril Chambers, replying to criticism of recruiting results for the Citizen Military Force, said Australia would be unable to equip men at a greater rate than the present intake of 700 weekly.

The Citizen Military Force, a voluntary militia group, is to comprise 50,000 men when recruiting is completed.

"Even if Australia had 10 times its proposed post-war armed-force strength in uniform it would be impossible to equip them with modern weapons and machines," he said. "This condition is not peculiar to Australia.

RUSS ARMS OBSOLETE

"It is universal, and despite alarmist claims about the Soviet Union, the fact remains that most of the equipment the Russians have at the moment is obsolete."

Chambers claimed that the Citizen Military Force was laying the foundation for a highly-efficient post-war army.

He added that officers of the regular army are being instructed in the use of atomic bombs in warfare to give them a broader scientific background.

Catholic Sisters In Modern Dress

FARGO, N.D. Sept. 23.—(AP)—Children in a dozen public schools in North Dakota are getting accustomed to a novel sight—Roman Catholic sisters in modern dress. About 60 nuns are continuing teaching in those schools. By wearing ordinary dresses, they are complying with a law approved by North Dakota voters last spring which forbids any public-school teacher from wearing garb denoting membership in a religious order.

State Bans Some U.K. Automobiles

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Massachusetts registry of motor vehicles yesterday ruled that British-made automobiles fail to meet state safety requirements. Automobiles that are not up to par are barred from the road until they meet safety standards. In a departmental directive, A. W. Devine said headlights are too small and tail lights do not meet requirements. He specifically mentioned the Austin and Hillman-Minx.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Big plans are being made for Jane Greer, according to a wind sweeping out of the RKO lot.

Announcements and rumors (and dropped employes) have been about the only things coming out of the studio since Howard Hughes took over. The latest report is that the air-fim tycoon has big plans for Miss Greer.

PRIME CANDIDATE

Else why would he turn down offers from four other studios to borrow her for starring movies? The actress, former wife of Rudy Valee, has long been RKO's prime candidate for top star bracket.

Helen Hayes may yet be lured to films. Charles Feidman, who owns picture rights of "The Glass Menagerie," wants to star her in the Tennessee Williams story. But she doesn't like Hollywood. So the film might be made in England. If so, another Heflin may hit the screen—Van's sister Frances, who played Miss Hayes' daughter in the London run of the play.

Lolling beside a Pacific shore for two weeks gives a guy a chance to view the Hollywood scene from a comfortable distance. So maybe you won't blame me for dreaming up a fantasy of what I'd do if I were czar of Hollywood. I'd enforce noiseless popcorn in all theatres . . . bring back the two-reel comedy as an antidote to double features . . . advertise pictures for wha they are . . . stop the industry's catering to certain misbehaving stars and give their roles to newcomers . . . establish a fund for experimental films.

Give screen writers a chance to prove their claim they can write good scripts except for the need to "write down to mass-conscious producers" . . . look to the classics for story material instead of present day trash . . . well, I can dream, can't I?

2 New Islands Found Within Arctic Circle

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—(CP)—Discovery of two new islands—one of them two to three times as large as Prince Edward Island—was announced by air force headquarters yesterday.

The islands, just within the Arctic Circle in Foxe Basin, on the west side of Baffin island, will add more than 5,000 square miles of hitherto-unknown territory to Canada. They were discovered by the crew of a Lancaster aircraft engaged in air photography of Baffin island.

LARGE NEW SPOT

First spotted by a navigator who thought he must be miles out in his calculations, the islands will mark a large new spot of land on maps of the eastern Arctic. The largest is 85 miles long and 75 miles wide the smallest, nearby, about 20 by 10 miles.

These will alter sharply the maps of Foxe Basin, a circular and relatively large body of water some 250 miles in width. Apparently they have never been sighted before although explorers first nosed their ships into the basin many years ago.

Discovery of these relatively large areas, covered only with lakes and the usual northern vegetation of moss and lichen, sharply underlined the uncertainty of present maps of the Arctic.

Throughout the area, shifting ice masses, low-lying cloud blankets and poor navigational conditions have left geographers in the dark as to actual coastlines.

This year, in various regions of the Canadian hinterland, the RCAF covered a record area of more than 850,000 square miles, photographing new areas and finding many variations from the map.

Woman Convicted Of Manslaughter In Hatchet Killing

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—(CP)—Yvonne Brouillette, 38, tried on a charge of murder, late yesterday was convicted of manslaughter in the hatchet-slaying last July of John F. Farrell, 33, with whom she had lived intermittently for a year and a half.

Defence Counsel Harry Rose said he would make a plea for leniency before sentence is passed Friday.

The attractive brunette from Narcisse, Que., heard the announcement without visible emotion. Earlier she broke down and wept in her cell after the jury retired.

Provinces Gird For Showdown On Rail Rates

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—(CP)—A major move will be launched Monday to set aside the 21 per cent freight boost granted the railways last March. Representatives of seven provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—today are preparing to follow up their initial victory Tuesday.

They gained a three-month delay in hearings on the railway application for a new interim 15 per cent freight rate increase and a general permanent increase of 20 per cent. The hearings were postponed to Jan. 11.

A five-point attack will be made by the provinces against the 21 per cent boost when they appear before the cabinet Monday and Tuesday.

5-POINT ARGUMENT

The provinces will contend:

1. That there was no real financial necessity for the increase.
2. Some claims by the railways were not fully investigated by the Board of Transport Commissioners which granted the increase.
3. There was insufficient evidence to show that the two major carriers had made all possible economies by full co-operation.
4. That the formula used by the board in determining the financial needs of the roads was an improper one.
5. Authorization of a flat percentage increase across the country was beyond the jurisdiction of the board.

The railways are expected to argue that their case was fully proved and that the board had ample authority to make any kind of an award.

It is certain they will contend that the initial 21 per cent boost was not enough.

Could Have Bossed Soviet Air Force, Claimed Goering

Werner Bross, a defence counsel for Hermann Goering at the Nuremberg trial, took down at Goering's dictation his opinions and private versions of many historic events: the reason why Britain was not invaded, a vain attempt to make peace, the Nazi persecution of the Jews. Today he records Goering's account of the war

By Werner Bross

Russia's Enemy No. 1

In preparing his defence for the Nuremberg trial, Marshal Goering attached particular importance to his attitude towards Russia. Not only did he dictate his opinions on the Soviets to me, as he did on all the other matters I am reporting here, but he asked for a copy of what he said, and when it had been transcribed went through it very carefully, cutting out phrases here and there and writing in others.

EXCLUSIVE

In doing so, he was clearly not motivated by any hope of mollifying the Soviet judge. He might have borne down on that fact that he opposed the attack on Russia, but instead he made it plain that he considered war with Russia inevitable and that if he objected to the invasion of Russia it was only because he considered the time unfavorable to success. He felt it was no use to play up to the Russians, who had their minds made up about him already.

"I was very much distressed when I first heard the Fuehrer's plan for attacking Russia," he told me. "I tried in vain to stop him. I argued with him for three whole hours without a break.

"Of course that doesn't change anything so far as this trial is concerned. The Russians know I'm an untiring anti-Bolshevik. They came here with orders to convict me."

"ENEMY NUMBER ONE"

On another occasion he remarked:

"I have a feeling that the Russians consider me their Enemy Number One among the defendants. That is because I'm the only one who always, in all circumstances, advocated close cooperation with the West.

"I'm the only one among the Nazi leaders who attached great importance to Western culture. And today the chief enemies of the Russians, the ones they're persecuting in the Soviet zone of Germany and in the Balkans, are not political fanatics, but those who reject Bolshevism from their inmost convictions, on cultural and traditional grounds.

"Yet if I had written to Stalin offering my collaboration to his side, as I did to Eisenhower, do you know what would have happened? The Russians would have put out the news that I had died of a heart attack—but all the time I would be sitting comfortably in my own villa outside of Moscow working on the organization of the Soviet air force!"

"We needn't bother to take the Russians into consideration during the trial. No matter how I twist and turn, I'll remain for them the Number One Anti-Bolshevik."

FOLLOWS NAZI POLICY

In his formal statement on his attitude toward Russia he made this clear. (Editor's note: The statement, which follows, is consistent with basic Nazi policy in every favor with the West by denouncing the East, and vice versa, in order to strengthen the German position.)

"The political contrast between National Socialism and Communism," Goering dictated, "caused me to watch Soviet Russia and Soviet policy from a very early stage in our struggle. I soon saw clearly that our arch-enemy inside the Reich, Communism, had an ally in the mighty Soviet state and the Komintern.

"By 1925 I had realized that Soviet Russia was concentrating all its strength on armaments. From that time on I followed reports on this subject, so far as they were available to me, with the greatest interest.

"According to the German Ambassador in Moscow, Soviet living standards were forcibly reduced in the interests of the Soviet armaments industry—that is, consumer goods industries declined or were even abandoned, while industries serving armaments were expanded."

REVISES STATEMENT

When he revised this statement, Goering substituted for the words "declined or were even abandoned" the phrase "were throttled down to a scarcely believable minimum."

"At the beginning of the '30s, this one-sided industrial policy even caused famine. Such measures are taken by a state when it has decided to throw all its strength into armaments and power politics."

"At the end of the '20s, German airmen and tank officers had been sent to Soviet Russia for training, since such training was impossible in Germany under the Versailles Treaty. They reported a massive development of the Russian aircraft industry and of all branches of armament. The only question was: 'Against whom is the Soviet Union arming?'

"As a National Socialist, I saw clearly that Soviet Russia would become an opponent of Germany at the moment that National Socialism came to power. After 1933 it became ever clearer that Soviet Russia was turning against the Reich.

'DEFENSIVE' PROGRAM

"Growing in strength, she was going to attack Germany. Therefore, from the very beginning, I considered my re-armament in the air—like all our armament, including our economic preparations —as a defensive program against Russia. Soviet Russia alone entered into my considerations."

In the paragraph above, Goering added the words between the dashes in his revision of the text as originally dictated.

"I always considered Britain and France, nations which stood on the same level of civilization and culture as ourselves, as members of the European family of Nations with whom we must live in friendship. This applied especially to the British Empire, whose great historic achievements and tasks I have always admired and admire to this very day."

WANTED FRIENDLY POLAND

The last words of that sentence, following the comma, were also added by Goering when he revised his statement.

"Even Poland I wanted to see a friendly state. I wanted to keep her as a bastion, so to speak, against Soviet Russia.

"The fact that Soviet Russia did not undertake any direct aggressive action against Germany before the German attack of June 22, 1941, does not refute the truth of my suppositions. When Austria was incorporated in the Reich, Soviet Russia was not yet interested. When we marched into Czechoslovakia, she contented herself with bloodthirsty radio attacks, restraining herself otherwise because her preparations for war were not sufficiently advanced.

AGREEMENT ON POLES

"Russia made an agreement with us on Poland because she wanted Germany and Britain to clash, so that she might later attack Germany after the Reich had been weakened by its war effort in the conflict with the British Empire. The quick defeat of France surprised the Soviet Union most unpleasantly.

"Immediately she increased her output of arms and strengthened her preparations in the newly occupied territories, the Baltic states, eastern Poland and Bessarabia, by constructing many airfields and concentrating troops.

"While Germany at times had only five to eight divisions left to guard her eastern frontiers, the Soviet deployment gradually increased as to increase our forces on those frontiers. In the autumn of 1940, the Russians permitted German officers and engineers to inspect their tremendous machinery for armaments, their factories and arsenals, for the first time.

"That increased my belief in the aggressive intentions of the Soviets. They no longer needed time to gain strength! By the end of 1940, at last 100 to 120 Soviet divisions stood on the borders of the Reich against at most 35 German divisions."

HAD TO PREVENT BLOW

Goering went on:

"We German leaders had to be prepared for Russia's launching an attack at the moment most dangerous for the Reich. Therefore we had to forestall it.

"I was completely aware of the seriousness of the situation when the Fuehrer told me at the end of October, 1940, that presumably he would be forced to attack Russia. I considered this utterly wrong at that moment for the following reasons:

"1. At this time the Luftwaffe was in the midst of its sharpest attacks on Britain and was scheduled to increase their intensity.

"2. I was anticipating with certainty the intervention of the United States in the war.

"3. To concentrate on Britain seemed to me essential for these reasons: (a) Only an attack on Gibraltar with the subsequent occupation of French North Africa and Dakar could seal off the Mediterranean and force British ships to the Atlantic route where our U-boats could attack them more effectively; (b) Only an attack on Malta and an amphibian attack on the Suez Canal could finally give security to our weak points—Italy and the Mediterranean; (c) Sure of American intervention, I wanted to occupy the Azores as air and submarine bases.

"All these reasons may be summed up in one: You must not attack a world power while you are still engaged in fighting a first and can expect a certain fight with a third.

"But I was always quite sure that some day Soviet Russia would attack and I must stress strongly that only considerations of the practical difficulties moved me against an attack on the Soviet Union in 1941 . . . I had no moral scruples about the attack on Russia and I have none today."

(TOMORROW: Goering's contempt for other Nazis).

Red Troops Unable To Enter Tsinan

NANKING, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The battle of Tsinan reached a climax yesterday with Communist attackers still unable to pierce the walls of the city proper, a military spokesman announced.

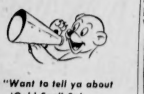

Gen. Wong Yao-Wu radioed from the besieged Shantung province capital that gangs of Red saboteurs, who slipped into the city Tuesday and damaged the radio station, had been "annihilated."

Edmonton's Slums Spawning Evils

Overcrowding Hit By Dean Trendall

Such was the opinion expressed by the Very Reverend A. M. Trendell in an address to the Rutherford Home and School Association meeting at Rutherford school Wednesday night.

Dean Trendell, formerly juvenile court judge in Edmonton, stated that small blocks in Edmonton had been found to house as many as 300 people during the war years. This meant that 300 people were living on the equivalent of a fifth of an acre, compared to 500 people per acre in the worst London slums when the Dean was a curate in that city.

A lowering of moral standards and an increasing divorce rate, he remarked, are also leading causes for delinquency. More than 70 per cent of the delinquents who appeared before Dean Trendell in his capacity as juvenile court judge came from homes where divorce had divided the authority of the parents.

NEGLECT BLAMED

The frequent absence of the mother from the home has also contributed to the increase in the number of children appearing before the courts, the speaker maintained.

He said that when both parents are working no one maintains authority over the children or keeps them occupied after school hours. Or if the mother is continually away from home attending social functions the tendency for the child is to find companionship on the street with children from similar homes.

When children form gangs they frequently get into trouble that would be avoided if they had guidance.

RELIGION LACKING

Large numbers of children growing up in the country have no religious instruction and given no moral influence of background. As a result they have no way of knowing right from wrong, the Dean found during his experience in the juvenile court.

A frank talk sometimes succeeds as a corrective measure, but more often other treatment is required to get the youngster on the right track. A genuine love of children is required of those who seek to help the delinquents, the speaker declared. He spoke of the urgent need for Boys' Town in the province similar to the one established by the Roman Catholic church north of Edmonton.

The Morrial system, being used in Vancouver, he said, should be introduced here. Dean Trendell believed that the John Howard Society branch organized in Edmonton last spring will be helpful in introducing this system in Alberta.

SCHOOL FOR PARENTS

A school for parents was suggested as a means of curtailing part of the delinquency. Such a school would provide guidance for those training their children.

The meeting passed a motion requesting that library service to the district be continued. A resolution recommending that the additional grant to the library be approved was also passed.

THIEVES PREPARE FOR WINTER

One garment, a heavy overcoat, was taken from an auto belonging to Hugh Morrison, 10039 123 street and the other coat was stolen from the car of Jack Davidson, 11143 123 street while it was parked downtown Wednesday. Thieves took a flashlight from the same auto.

APPOINTMENT, as medical lecturer in biology at Queen's University, of David Pollack, 26, MSc, has been announced. Mr. Pollack, a graduate of the University of Alberta in 1943, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Pollack, 10030 83 avenue.

Library Board Will Seek Grant Friday

The Finance Committee of the Edmonton Public Library Board will recommend to the directors Friday the amount of money needed to meet increased library costs.

A delegation from the Board will then be appointed to approach the City Council.

He said the exact sum needed for library costs will not be disclosed until Friday.

At an earlier meeting of the Library Board this week, Librarian H. C. Gourlay estimated the minimum cost of immediate expenditures at approximately $14,000.

This would be required in addition to the $93,572 granted on the one mill rate for 1948, he said.

NEXT YEAR

Although legislation has been passed permitting a grant based on a mill rate of one and one half, it was pointed out by Mr. Balfour when queried, this does not go into effect until 1949. The City Council have already granted the library $16,000 over the one mill rate permissable in 1948, he stated.

This extra sum he said is included in the Library's 1948 grant of $93,572.

Stanley H. Churchill, principal of Forest Heights school and spokesman for a delegation of concerned civic leaders who attended the meeting Monday, declared today the delegation will not favor any action resulting in curtailment of library services.

Rather the delegation are advocating expansion of facilities, he said.

MAJOR GROUPS

The citizens' delegation includes representatives from most of the major organizations in the city whose attendance at Monday's meeting was solicited by Mr. Churchill and whose avowed aim is to lend moral support to the Library Board's request for more money.

If necessary, the delegation has moved to reconvene. Meanwhile, only a few will be present at the meeting Friday.

CARROT HAIR SAVES LIFE FOR FATHER

Edmonton Community Theatre received a new lease on "Life With Father" Tuesday night when the ideal carrot-thatched boy turned up for the hard-to-cast role of Harlan Day.

Play director Alan Macdonald announced that the part of six-year-old Harlan in Clarence Day's famous play will be filled by eight-year-old George Wilce, 10561 106 St.

Director Macdonald saw George, embraced George.

Red Cross Begins New Swim Classes

This estimate was made in Edmonton Wednesday by Dr. Harvey Doney, national director of the Canadian Red Cross swimming and water safety instructional program.

"We have found that the most dangerous man around the water is the man who can swim a little bit," he said. "Water safety must be taught with their swimming."

He explained that the objective of the course is twofold.

First aim, he said, is to teach people a little common sense in water to cut down on drownings.

SECOND OBJECTIVE

Their aim, he explained, is to take qualified people, mostly at the university level, and to instruct them in how to teach water safety.

"Our biggest difficulty is not to get support," said Dr. Doney, "but to meet the demand."

The value of the course has been recognized by top-ranking officers of all three military services, he said, and the Red Cross has trained and is training military personnel to act as instructors for the various cadet branches.

RAISE STANDARDS

Standards required for instructors who take the course are continually being raised and will be higher this year, said Dr. Doney. "We are our own severest critics."

The training manual put out by the Canadian Red Cross is rapidly being accepted throughout the world as an authority on the subject, he declared, and even though the course has only been operative for three years, it has already been translated into French and Spanish.

YOUNG CANADIAN LIVES are being made safer through the medium of Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety instruction. Dr. Harvey Doney, national director of the campaign, predicts that because of courses given in the last three years, this year's toll of drownings will have been appreciably reduced.

CMA Head Lauds Private Enterprise

Only private enterprise could have boosted Canada's national income from four billion to 10 billion dollars annually, and raised the employment index from 108 to 201 in a few years, N. A. Hesler, president of the Canadian Manufacturers said Wednesday.

Mr. Hesler was speaking to a luncheon meeting of the Edmonton branch of the association in the Macdonald.

It is up to each of us, he said, to spread the gospel of the free enterprise system and increase the barrier against the menace of Communism.

For this purpose, he said, the CMA created an education department which has spread 300,000 pieces of literature publicizing the Canadian way of life.

SUSTAIN LOSSES

In listing causes for the ills for society, Mr. Hesler said, the Communists have over-stressed the profit side of private enterprise and failed to mention the losses. In 1947, he added, 23 per cent of the companies in the Dominion reported losses on their operations.

Average profits for 1947, he said, were 9.4 per cent as compared to an average of more than 11 per cent in 1929. Shareholders were getting less in way of corporation profits now, Mr. Hesler added, than was the case in 1939.

CURTAIL EXPENSES

Abolition of the profits, he said, would deprive industry of the money needed for expansion and would curtail development of the country.

Cost of living increases have been the cause of complaint by individuals, but these cost increases have not been as great as those being borne by corporations, he said.

This increased cost of living, Mr. Hesler told the Edmonton manufacturers, is still lower than that of any other country in the world.

Admitting the private enterprise system is not perfect, Mr. Hesler said, "neither are many other things in our life, but it is better to build on the system we have than grasp at the quick and phoney remedies being offered by the communists."

Labor Council Urges Support For Bulletin

At a well-attended meeting in the Labor Temple, members were urged to support The Edmonton Bulletin, the only union daily newspaper in Edmonton.

Members were also reminded that no settlement had been made in the long-standing dispute between the Journal and the International Typographical Union, Local 604, and that striking ITU members were still picketing the plant.

It's Kiddies Day At Armoury Saturday

"Operation Kids" will be the final feature of Army Week displays in the Prince of Wales Armoury Saturday.

Working on the principle that forewarned is forearmed, army authorities hope to be able to handle thousands of youthful invaders with a minimum of casualties to equipment on display.

During the past week, army officials said, kids have thoroughly tested the defences of the armories, sabotaged the vehicles, tested the equipment and helped to do away with some of the rations.

Defensive plans of the army includes securely tying down everything from 30-ton tanks to anti-aircraft guns and supplying plenty of nickel hamburgers and coffee for the young invaders.

An alternate plan of defense by the army is to get the youngsters so interested in tanks, vehicles, machinery, driver testing, radar and gunnery that they will forget to tear the place to pieces.

Major C. H. Campbell, chairman of the Edmonton Army Week committee, said, "The show this week has been highly successful, but the real test will come Saturday afternoon."

"Every effort to defend the armouries must be made," he continued. "Our watchword for the day must be 'Keep 'em Interested'. In that way we may save the situation."

Court Mercy Shown To Young Couple

In the evidence of the police officer responsible for the arrest it came to light that the young woman is the deserted wife of an overseas marriage and the mother of a three-year-old child.

On his $76 a month salary the corporal has been supporting both mother and child for the past 18 months.

In view of these facts the couple were given a suspended sentence on their own bond of $1,000, and under oath to discontinue their relationship.

Abe Miller, Edmonton lawyer in court on another case and who spontaneously offered his aid to the couple, has contacted a relative of the girl able to give her support.

Science estimates that the earth is at least 2,000,000,000 years old.

Military Note

The 44 HAA Workshop and the 156 Light Aid Detachment, RCEME, will parade Friday, pick-ups as usual.

A dance will be held at "Hallhead" 9 p.m. Saturday and all unit members are requested to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Announcement of the sale of the Willemore apartments, 84 avenue and 110 street, to C. L. Olsen by S. J. McCoppen was made today. Price of sale was said to be about $50,000.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Bea Back Home With Nose To Grindstone

By Ben Thrifty

Well people! I'm back—back among my own vittles and skittles.

I've had a simply wonderful holiday. Vancouver is a mighty large town . . . filled with pretty clothes, lots 'n lots of unique pottery, scads of everything.

But that bright-as-a-dollar gal, Pennywise has told you all about what's to be had in Vancouver stores. I'm back to my haunts right at home in Edmonton.

* * *

Two weeks can make a tremendous difference in merchandising displays and I spent the day "ohing" and "ahing" at all the delightful didoes, practical penny-savers and tempting tidbits.

* * *

* * *

'Nother goodie you can make with sugar and spice and everything nice is pumpkin marmalade. With orange slices, flip of crushed pineapple and your pumpkin you have a preserve to please the palates of your entire family.

* * *

Lime green, turquoise and rosy pink . . . Porky and friend do a delightful duo for the seasoning containers.

They sell for $1.50 per set and you'll love that sly little grin on their faces.

* * *

Those great big Spanish onions, the white sweet ones, are available in quantity now and are selling for a mere pittance. A mere pittance in this case is 5c per pound.

* * *

It's selling in Edmonton at the moment for 55c per tin. But some stores are getting 57c per tin . . . All in the way you shop m' dear.

* * *

Nice to see a smattering of fresh strawberries again, even if you have to pay 33c or 34c in some stores . . . 37c in others . . .

Touch of springtime isn't it?

* * *

If you want one ice cube for a single drink . . . all you have to do is remove one of the plastic cubes.

Blessing for the gals who like to whip up frozen desserts too. There are unscoring size dessert cups also available in the plastic icing jobs.

For a 12-cube tray you pay $2.50. For the 8-cube size it's $1.98 out of your purse. You can buy the individual cubes, 12 for $1.35; the individual dessert cups at 6 for $1.35.

* * *

And because of things such as the prices of that same beef . . . needs must pinch the pennies wherever possible.

And there is the prettiest piece of pale amber crepe faille, shimmering enticingly in a department store . . . just waiting for some ambitious woman to pay $2.50 per yard and make a dreamy after-five frock with it.

Have a look-see anyway . . . why not!

WHY GROW OLD

Regular Routine Improves Health

By Josephine Lowman

Civilization has dumped numerous blessings and numerous curses on man. Among the many so-called minor curses we find nervousness, constipation, insomnia, backache, headache and fatigue.

Nervously we go at a very high pitch while physically we move slowed down. We use machines for much of the work we used to do, have many household conveniences, and go about in cars and on busses and in subways rather than use our legs.

Life and foods have been made smooth for us, poundage has increased and exercise has decreased and constipation has become one of our major health problems!

If we felt like a million dollars all of the time, just think of the things we would accomplish and the fun we would have at work and at play, with our friends and with our families. Besides, these little defects in health may lay the foundation for serious trouble later on if they are not corrected.

Even the most stubborn cases of constipation can be corrected by a diet and exercise and habit forming routine. Many of my pupils have entirely overcome this trouble. Unless there is some reason for not doing so, eat more raw vegetables and uncooked fruits in order to provide roughage. Prunes and oranges are especially good for this.

Also get on a regular routine and exercise daily. Some exercises are more effective than others. I will give you one of these today. Sit on a fairly low stool with your feet on the floor and your knees and feet separated.

Place your hands on your hips. Bend your trunk forward over the left knee. Keep your back straight. Raise your trunk. This time bend it over the right knee. Raise trunk. Continue, doing this exercise slowly.

If you would like to have my leaflet about constipation, "Are You Committing Suicide Slowly?" No. 23, send 5 stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Fancied Lady-Killer Poor Husband Material

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a Boy Friend to whom I am engaged and we plan to get married next year. He is very handsome and lots of girls flirt with him.

I am not jealous, but when he hears about a girl he keeps on saying: "She is very pretty. Why don't you introduce me to her?" Or if we meet a beautiful woman he stares at her for five minutes.

If he thinks an actress is gorgeous, he goes back to the show over and over again. I do my best to look indifferent, but it gets on my nerves because I am no beauty myself.

Do you think that a man who is really in love can act that way?

LEATRICE

ANSWER: I think a male flirt is one of the most contemptible of the human species, and that any girl who marries one is simply going out of her way to hunt for trouble.

For no wife can be happy with a husband whom she does not trust, and certainly she can have no faith in a man who is ogling every good-looking girl he sees and making near-love to her.

PERPETUAL INSULT

A woman would not need to be jealous to resent such conduct in her husband. The indignity of it would be an insult that would keep her nerves raw and her temper on edge.

So my earnest advice to you is to break off with this lady-killer and have nothing more to do with him.

Wild Game Augments Winter Food Supplies

In Face Of Sky-High Meat Prices

Fall Hunting Season Blessing

By Bea Thrifty

With meat prices reaching constantly for new heights, friend husband is out stalking wild game to augment the family food larder.

Evidently the law frowns on commercial canning of wild game, but there is no reason in the wide, wide world why surplus game may not be home-canned for winter use.

RULES FOR COOKING WILD FOWL

Since wild fowl live mostly on a vegetable diet their flesh contains very little fat. Therefore it is necessary to arrange strips of bacon or salt pork over the breast or grease the breasts in order to insure good cooking.

Game birds should not be cooked too soon after killing. Allow birds to hang at least a week in cool weather. Draw birds before hanging.

• • •

ROAST GROUSE

Prepare bird for roasting and cover the breast with strips of fat salt pork or bacon. Roast, uncovered, in a hot oven—475 deg. F. allowing 20-25 minutes per pound. Baste frequently. Pheasant can be cooked in the same manner.

• • •

ROAST WILD DUCK

1 cup cooked wild or brown rice, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup chopped onion.

Clean and wash goose. Remove pinfeathers and singe. Fill cavity with mixed stuffing. Rub surface with salt and pepper. Spread a little bacon dripping or fat over the breast and legs, or fasten olives of bacon across breast and legs. Roast on a hot oven, 400 deg. F. uncovered for 15-20 minutes to the pound.

• • •

BROILED HUNGARIAN PARTRIDGE

Wash and clean birds and cut in halves. On the breast of each bird, place a piece of bacon; then sprinkle with salt and pepper. Set broiler high, 450 deg. place birds on rack of broiler and sear until golden brown. Then turn oven regulator down to 300 deg. F., and continue broiling for 30 minutes. Remove to a hot platter and dress with 3 tablespoons lemon butter and sprinkle with parsley.

Lemon Butter—Cream 2 tablespoons butter until fluffy, then add 2 tablespoons lemon juice gradually and beat until well combined.

• • •

FRIED PRAIRIE CHICKEN

Prairie Chicken, ½ cup milk, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 4 teaspoons flour, bread or cracker crumbs, tiny piece of bay-

• • •

ROAST WILD GOOSE

Wash thoroughly and disjoint chicken. Soak in milk. Add salt and pepper to flour. Remove chicken from milk. Roll in flour; then dip in beaten egg and then in crumbs. When hot but not smoking, sear chicken to a golden color. Reduce heat, cover and cook until tender, about 30-45 minutes.

• • •

LARDED GROUSE

Grouse are rather dry birds and need to be larded to be palatable. Clean and wash quickly under running water. Cover bird entirely with thin slices of bacon or salt pork, or rub grease over the top. Tie bacon in place with string.

Place in a roasting pan and pour over enough boiling water to use for basting the birds.

Roast in a moderate oven, 350 deg. F. for about 45 minutes. Baste frequently. When done, remove bacon strips, brush birds with oil and melted fat, dredge with flour and place in the oven again to brown.

The liquid in the pan may be thickened, seasoned, and used as gravy. Arrange the birds on a platter and garnish with rings of sauteed green pepper and strips of bacon. Allow 1 grouse per person.

• • •

BRAISED DUCK

2 ducks, 3 slices bacon, 1 carrot, 1 onion, stuck with cloves, Thyme, Parsley, Salt and pepper, 1 small turnip, diced, Flour, Oil or cooking fat.

Prepare ducks as for roasting, then put them into a large stew-pan with the bacon, carrot, onion and a little thyme and parsley. Season with salt and pepper and cover with water. Simmer over a low fire until the ducks are tender, then remove from the pan. Cook the turnip in the fat until brown, then drain and cook in liquor in the stew-pan until tender. Strain the liquor, thicken with flour and pour gravy thus made over the ducks. Garnish with pieces of turnip.

• • •

Skin, wash, cut up and cook in as little water as possible. Do not use skin. To the meat, after being removed from bones, add salt to season and ¼ teaspoon black pepper. Cook separately 1 cup diced carrots and 1 cup onions, in as little water as possible.

Combine meat with vegetables in an 8-inch casserole. Before covering with crust, add 1 heaping tablespoon flour with ¼ cup stock from the cooked birds.

Make a rich pastry with 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅔ cup shortening and cold water, mixing first to thin batter.

CRUST

1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 egg, 1 heaping tablespoon shortening, ¼ teaspoon salt ⅓ cup milk.

Sift dry ingredients. Cut in shortening. Add beaten eggs and milk enough to form a stiff dough. Roll to ½-inch thickness, or large enough to cover the casserole. Place inverted egg cup in centre of pie to hold up crust. Cook until crust is slightly browned in a 375 to 400 deg. F. oven.

• • •

ROAST WILD DUCK

Clean, wiping inside and outside with a damp towel. Tuck back the wings and truss. Dust with salt, pepper and flour. If not fat, cover breast with 2 thin slices of salt pork. Place duck in a pan and add 1 cup water with 2 tablespoons of fat.

Roast uncovered and breast down in a moderate oven, 350 deg. F. allowing 20 to 25 minutes per pound, according to rareness desired. Baste frequently.

Turn breast up when half done. Serve with slices of lemon or orange and a brown gravy. Wild ducks usually are served rare and are seldon stuffed when roasted. Allow 1 pound per person.

• • •

DUCK A LA CREOLE

2 tablespoons fat, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 tablespoons chopped ham, salt, pepper and paprika, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoons chopped sweet pepper, ½ cup chopped celery, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1½ cups consomme, ¼ teaspoon mace, 1 whole clove, 2 cups diced cooked duck.

Melt fat, add flour and stir in ham. Season with paprika, salt, pepper, onion, sweet pepper, celery and parsley. Stir for 2 minutes, add the consomme, clove and mace. Simmer 1 hour. Strain the broth and stir in diced, cooked duck. Heat thoroughly and serve. Serves 2.

CANNING GAME BIRDS

Recipe No. 1

Dress fowl and allow it to cool. Cut into convenient pieces. Boil until meat can be removed from bones; pack meat in clean jars or tins to within 1 inch of the top. Add ½ teaspoon salt for each pint. Add 2 tablespoons of the liquid which you have boiled for a sufficient time to concentrate it. Exhaust tin cans. Process in the pressure canner for a sufficient time to concentrate glass jars or 65 minutes for tins.

Recipe No. 2

Dress fowl and allow it to cool. Wash in cold water, cut in pieces or pack whole in clean jars or tins to within 1 inch of the top without precooking. Add ½ teaspoon salt to each pint. Exaust tin cans. Process in pressure canner at 15 pounds pressure, 65 minutes in glass jars and 60 minutes in tin cans.

If this is the only method available, the boiling water bath may be used for canning game birds. Use either of above methods and process in the boiling bath for 3 hours.

WILD GAME IN A ONE-DISH MEAL

(May use any cooked game birds)

2 cups cooked and diced game meat, 1½ cups diced raw celery, 4 cups cooked rice, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ cup bacon drippings, salt and pepper.

Into a buttered dish, spread a layer of rice, then a layer of celery and game. Season lightly with salt and pepper. Then cover with the remainder of the rice. Dot the top liberally with butter, and drippings. Bake about 45 minutes in a moderate, 350 deg. F. oven.

EASY TO PREPARE and easy on the budget is this dish with wild fowl basis. Diced cooked duck, goose, partridge, prairie chicken or grouse with noodles in gravy or cream sauce is a mouth-watering treat.

Venison, Well-Cooked Makes Tasty Dishes

Fleet-footed beasts of the forest are prey for the sportsmen and food for budget-blitzed families.

Venison differs little from beef or veal except that it is less fat. The flavor is "gamey" but not strong and the texture of the meat is fine.

The most desired cut is the round, which may be used for steaks, but which is more satisfactory for roasting.

Other roasting pieces are the saddle and the leg.

ROAST VENISON

Wipe meat carefully and remove dry skin. Lard the lean side of the leg with strings of pork. Soften fat, rub it over the meat and dredge with salt, pepper and flour.

Lay the meat on a rack of the roaster, sprinkling the bottom of the pan with flour. Roast uncovered in a slow oven, 300 deg. F. allowing 20 to 22 minutes per pound. When flour in the bottom of pan is browned, add boiling water to cover bottom. Baste venison frequently, renewing water in pan as often as necessary.

Serve with a gravy made from the juices in the bottom of the pan. Always serve a tart jelly like currant, wild grape or plum with venison. Allow ½ pound per person.

CANNING VENISON AND LARGE GAME

If roasting, cook slowly in a moderate oven about 15 minutes for each pound of venison. Slice, pack into clean jars or tins to within one inch of the top. Add ½ teaspoon salt to each pint. Add two tablespoons of broth if desired. Onion may also be added.

Exhaust tin cans. Process in pressure canner at 15 pounds pressure 65 minutes for glass jars or 60 minutes for tin cans.

If this is the only method available, it can also be aged for a time before freezing.

Cut the venison into cuts suitable for serving and wrap each cut separately in moisture-vapor proof wrapping paper. Freeze immediately.

VENISON JELLY

3 pounds fully ripe grapes
½ cup apple vinegar
1 teaspoon cloves
2 teaspoons cinnamon

Wash and stem the grapes, place in a kettle and crush thoroughly. Add the vinegar, cloves and cinnamon. Bring to a boil, cover, and simmer for 10 minutes. Place the fruit in a jelly bag and strain out the juice. Measure the juice and complete as follows:

4 cups juice
7 cups sugar
½ bottle fruit pectin

Place the juice and sugar in a large saucepan and blend. Bring to a boil and at once add the bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil for ½-minute. Remove from the heat, skim, pour quickly into hot, sterile jelly glasses. Add melted paraffin at once to the tops. This makes about 11 medium-sized glasses of jelly.

French Cuisine Still Supreme

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—(CP) — With no milk, no butter, no cream and pastry only once a week, French cooking still is the finest in the world. This is the opinion of Marcelle Barthe, CBC producer and commentator, who has just returned from a three-month visit to Europe.

What milk is available is reserved for children and the aged, she explained in an interview

"The old saying, give a French cook a bone and an onion and she will produce the best soup on earth, is still true."

FREEZING VENISON AND OTHER LARGE GAME

Clutter In Women's Handbags Solved

The bewildering clutter which causes women to search frantically in their handbags for carfare and keys is a problem which inventive minds are determined to solve.

One neat solution is offered by the makers of a billfold for women in which everything from lipsticks to spare keys may be efficiently organized.

Planned so that no bus schedule may be held up or taxi driver irked beyond his endurance, this billfold provides on the outside of the case a change purse for ready-reached cash.

Inside of the billfold, which comes in leather colors, are fittings for photographs, bills, subways and charge-plates. Billfold equipment includes comb and mirror.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Do Not Reprove Child Reprove His Actions

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Few things are comparable to the cruelty with which otherwise conscientious parents tear down a child's self-esteem and confidence in himself.

They do it with the best intentions, too. They argue that the child must be reproved when he does wrong. This may be true, but it is the way they manage this that does the mischief.

Instead of saying, "This isn't the way you should act," they say, "You are thus and so."

When a child is harped at throughout the day and told that he is naughty, that he acts wrongly, that he isn't clean or tidy or mannerly or obedient or unselfish; all his belief in self vanishes.

In fact, when such parents start in when the child is small to tell him in the many ways he displeases them and how he is; he grows accustomed to the adverse labels and takes a certain pride in living up to them.

All through the child's life the parents have the deepest obligation to help him to live up to the best that is in him, not the worst. While he is struggling toward that best he is certain to be guilty of behavior of which they disapprove.

But such behavior is typical of Towih and not the key to the child's own personality when grown. He isn't anything at the moment but a child groping his way—with mistakes—toward adult standards of living.

His behavior may be deplorable and reprehensible and punishable. But it isn't the child who is faulty, only his actions.

Our leaflet, No. 75 "Obedience and Punishment," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

CAC Proved To Be Asset

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—(CP)—The work of Canadian Association of Consumer groups in helping to establish merchandise grades and standards was described today in reports presented to the CAC annual convention by representatives of the association's provincial groups.

Mrs. R. J. Marshall of Agincourt, Ont., in her presidential address, said that in her opinion "the achievements and service to Canadian consumers have proved the value of the association." She added:

"The economic problems which have confronted us and which are still facing us are acute and will continue to be so. There is much to be done."

Wolves, Game Found Plentiful in North

Wolves are plentiful in the northland although other game is also plentiful, two Detroit hunters reported here today.

R. C. Higgins and H. J. Hagen are on their way back to Detroit after a 25-day hunting trip in the Hudson Hope area west of Fort St. John.

The hunters bagged two mountain sheep and several black and brown bears.

Police Find Cash Gone In Break-In

Further police investigation of the H. Allen Gray school break-in during the week-end revealed the theft of $10 in cash, in addition to several pen and pencil sets previously reported stolen.

The money was taken from a desk in the manual training room.

Boiler room keys were also stolen and are believed to have been used by the thieves to open a basement door and escape from the building.

FIFTH DEATH FROM POLIO REPORTED HERE

Death reported was of a 21-year-old man, a war veteran, whose home was in the central sector of the city.

New Edmonton cases reported were those of a 23-year-old woman and a seven-year-old boy, both from the South Side and a young man from the central sector of the city.

The city total has now reached 70.

Hair-Pullings, Slaps Result in Court Case

Assault charges involving women were the main feature of city police court proceedings again today.

A charge of assault against the proprietress of a rooming house was dismissed by Magistrate A. I. Millar after consideration of evidence showed default on the part of both women concerned.

Wednesday, a similar case involving a brawl between two wives at Camp 550 was also dismissed.

"You would think mother's would be an example of good behavior for their children. If they don't behave decently, what can we expect of the younger generation?"

Accused today was a woman who was said to have interfered and tried to prevent another woman from slapping a teen-age boy. A free-for-all in which slaps and hair pulling were exchanged ensued.

New Apprentice Plan Suggested

Schooling, Practical Work Favored by Alberta Board

Changes in Alberta's regulations governing apprenticeship training in trades coming under the jurisdiction of the Alberta Apprenticeship Board were recommended at a meeting held this week in the legislative buildings.

It was suggested apprentices should attend the Calgary Institute of Technology and Art for a four to eight month course on the theory of their trade before they accept employment.

This would be followed by a period of practical work, which differs with each trade, before writing examinations the apprentice should return to the institute for a brush-up course of a few weeks.

Under the present arrangements apprentice training is assisted by the federal government for three months in each calender year until the apprentice qualifies.

Federal authorities have indicated they favor the pre-employment training of persons learning trades. The system now advocated by Alberta has already been successfully tested in Ontario and Quebec, it was learned.

The Apprenticeship Board met Tuesday to discuss the new plan and on Tuesday evening a general meeting was held, attended by representatives of employers and employees in the designed trades.

Delegates to the meeting will return to their organizations with the suggested changes, but it was indicated by provincial government authorities that the suggested changes probably be approved.

K. A. Pugh of the board was chairman at the meetings. J. P. White, director of the board; James Haddow, representing employers, and A. Mogridge representing employees also attended.

J. A. Ross, Canadian vocational director for Alberta, was out of the city and was the only member of the board not in attendance.

Trade Commissioner Here October 1

Canadian Trade Commissioner T. Grant Major, stationed in Port of Spain, Trinidad, and serving the West Indies area, will be a visitor in Edmonton Friday, October 1.

This was announced Wednesday by T. Ashenhurst, Alberta Branch Manager of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

While in Edmonton Mr. Major will visit local manufacturers.

Cabinet To Discuss Health Report

First report of Alberta's health survey committee was in the hands of Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, Alberta minister of health, ten minutes before the provincial cabinet went into session today.

It is expected that the health committee's report, which is a preliminary survey of the hospital and health needs of the province to qualify for federal government health grants, would be discussed by the ministers during the meeting.

The report is to be forwarded to the federal department of health in Ottawa, and is slated to reach the capital before Oct. 1 this year. Other reports will follow each three months.

It is not known if contents of the report will be made public until it has been approved by the federal authorities.

OIL

Central Co-Op Perforating 5C

By Cecil Jackman

A plug is being set in Central Co-op 5C well and production will be taken with the hole bottomed at 4,175 feet, the depth to which casing was set two weeks ago. As soon as the plug has set casing will be perforated opposite the oil bearing sands of the lower Cretaceous. Drill stem test of the horizon gave a flow of eight barrels per hour.

The new well is the second Cretaceous success in the field and the fourth producer on the Central Pyrcz quarter. Central Co-op No. 4, looking for Devonian oil under the southeast legal subdivision, is whipstocking 50 feet to the northwest while drilling in the D1 zone.

The second rig for the Redwater field is being moved to a location near Egremont about six miles north of the discovery well. Exact location of the hole has not been announced.

AMERADA TESTING

Tests are being made at the well cased with 5-inch casing on lsd. 8 21-57-18 w4th, six miles north of St. Michael and 15 miles east of Redwater discovery well. This well was drilled by Amerada Corp. as part of a slim hole test program in the area. It is reported that company officials have been favorably impressed by indications to date in the St. Michael district and have cased the hole after results of a drill stem test run over the week-end showed encouraging signs. Depth of the hole is around 2,900 feet.

OVER 100-FOOT POROSITY

Last available report from Imperial Oil on progress at the Redwater well showed depth to be 3,234 feet with coring and testing in progress. Total depth of porosity found is now well over 100 feet.

Tower Killam, 100 miles southeast of Edmonton, has lost circulation in a highly porous formation 3,800 feet down. A very thick porous limestone was encountered at 3,400 feet, but is water bearing at that location.

Phillips Petroleum of America found some oil in the lower Cretaceous at Phillips Leduc No. 1, but is carrying on for a test of the D3 zone. The hole is being drilled as a southwest offset of the first Cretaceous producer in the field, Continental Leduc-Woodbend No. 3. The Cretaceous sands did not flow oil and showed considerable salt water in the pipe recovery.

NEAR LOWER CRETACEOUS

immediately north of Edmonton Imperial Oil wildcats in the area are both approaching the lower Cretaceous that produced the oil showing at Volmer. Imperial Mearns, eight miles west of Morinville, is at 3,820 feet; Morinville No. 2 is near 3,400 feet. Imperial Dapp, north of Westlock, is below 3,650 feet.

The Spirit River test is down below 3,850 feet. Imperial Ardrossan, 20 miles east of Edmonton, is below 6,300 feet and apparently headed for a basement test to the granite. It is rumored that a salt bed several hundred feet thick has been located by the hole.

Hop Production Down This Year

The Bureau of Statistics Wednesday reported an estimated 1948 harvest of 1,721,000 pounds compared with 2,491,000 pounds harvested in 1947.

Reduced acreages were reported in Ontario which fell from 257 last year to 130 this year. British Columbia fell from 1,619 to 1,600.

Export Demand Keeps Coarse Grains Firm

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—(CP)—Coarse grain futures prices today were generally firm on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, reflecting good demand by exporters and shippers. Demand from American accounts also appeared in both grains. Offerings were light in barley but more liberal in oats. However, the offerings were well absorbed.

American houses and export interests were on the buying side in rye trade. Hedging sales were moderate in dull trade.

In the export business reported the United Kingdom took 400,000 bushels of wheat under the Canadian wheat agreement and Norway took 200,000 bushels of Canadian barley. Indications were that 200,000 bushels of Canadian oats had been sold overnight to either the United States or some European country.

Class two wheat prices remained unchanged from Wednesday.

BOND MARKET

Metals and Golds Improve Slightly

Steels Top Industrial List; Little Action in Western Oils

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—(CP)—Prices were firmer in light trading on the Toronto Stock Echange today. Industrials moved narrowly on mixed gains and losses and golds held steady. Base metals edged ahead after a dull beginning and western oils were almost inactive. Volume was about 715,000 shares.

Steels, led by Canadian Vickers Preferred as it touched a new high at $186, led the stronger tendencies in the industrials. Utilities and liquors weakened and papers and refining oils were mixed. The new $25 par value shares of Bell Telephone were posted for trading in mid-session on a "when issued" basis and were trading at $43.

Senior golds moved ahead and declines barely outnumbered advances in the juniors. Dome, Hollinger, Teck-Hughes and Wright-Hargreaves advanced in the seniors. A few selected juniors were active for penny gains.

Base metals started on a weak tone but firmed in mid-session as gains doubled losses. Denison Quemont, Noranda, Hudson Bay, Pend Oreille, Sherritt and East Sullivan were among the gainers. Smelters, Gulf Lead, Labrador and Silanco weakened.

MINOR FLUCTUATIONS ON CALGARY MARKET

CALGARY, Sept. 23.—Trading on the oil market today was bolstered by sale of 29,000 shares of unlisted Phillips Petroleum stock to bring the daily total of sales to 69,837 shares. Except for minor fluctuations prices of the more active stocks remained steady.

High, low, close and sales of the active issues: Atlantic 44, 43, 44, 2,100; Decalta 13, 12¾, 12¾, 3,500; Globe 69, 68½, 68½, 1,500; Princess 9¼, 9, 9, 4,000; Phillips 4¼, 4, 4½, 29,000.

Fine Arts Museum Opens New Season

A piano concert and the display of works of three of Canada's noted artists Tuesday marked the re-opening of the 1948-49 season of the Edmonton Museum of Fine Arts.

Those attending heard Geraldine Mason, youthful Edmonton pianist, play three works, a Beethoven Sonata, Opus 10, No. 3, first movement; Chopin's Impromptu, Opus 66 and Mahoney's Rhapsody in C Major, Opus 11, No. 3.

A talk on the method of dry point etching on pewter was given by Swedish artist Hallie Harper and Prof. H. G. Glyde of the University of Alberta art department detailed the technical side of Canadian artist A. C. Leighton.

Psychic Bid Wins Redoubled Contract

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

At the national tournament in Chicago various players gave me unusual hands that had come up in their local duplicate games. Arthur C. Grau of Racine, Wis., president of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Bridge Association, gave me today's hand.

	♠ 10 9 5
	♦ 2
	♣ A K 9 8 5
♠ None		♠ Grau
♥ K J 8 6	W E	♥ 6 4 3 2
♦ K 10 6 5	S Dealer	♥ None
♣ J 10 7 4		♦ A Q J 10 8 2
2		♣ None
	♠ A 7
	♥ A J 9 3 2
	♦ 9 4 2
	♣ Q 6 3

Tournament—Neither vul.

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1♣	4♥
Double	Pass	4♠	Pass
Pass	Pass	Redouble
Opening—♥ A		22

It is quite unusual to find a hand in which there was a fourth-hand bid, but you have to know the sequence of events at the table to understand the situation. South opened with a club and West bid a long study, then, realizing that he had hesitated, he looked down at the duplicate board and said, "Whose deal is it? Oh, pardon me, I pass."

North West passed and North bid one club. Grau (East) knew that South had close to a bid; and if he did bid, it would be either hearts or clubs. If South had a good club holding, he probably would have opened with a club bid lighter than with anything else. Grau decided therefore to try out a psychic fourth-hand bid and bid four hearts without a heart in his hand.

That was just what South wanted, and he promptly doubled. At Grau's next turn he somewhat dejectedly bid four spades. South now figured he had a pretty good double, and North was well pleased with it.

When the opening lead of the ace of hearts was trumped, neither South nor South felt so happy about the hand. Grau immediately led a trump which South won and shifted to a diamond. North won this trick with the ace and attempted to cash the king of clubs, but Grau ruffed that and returned the hand for five-odd, making an overtrick, doubled and redoubled.

In his address to the Club Mr. McKay outlined the objectives and activities of the chamber being undertaken for the benefit of Edmonton and district.

He stressed the interest taken by the organization in national issues and told of the representations made to the federal government in respect to the freight rates increase issue and the new income tax bill.

Report on the progress of plans for the holding of the Passion Play here Oct. 3 to Oct. 9, in the Strand Theatre, was given by Allan Johnson, chairman of the Passion Play committee.

The play being presented features Joseph Meier as the Christus. Mr. Meier came to Canada a citizen, comes originally from Lucau in Westphalia, Germany, where his ancestors were biblical dramatists and he was trained from childhood to enact the leading role of the Passion Play.

Wingfield Heads King Edward HSA
